500 Honor Schirick At Dinner

Justice Retiring, 26 Years on Bench

Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick, appointed to the Supreme Court bench in 1935 by Governor Herbert Lehman, was the guest of honor Thursday evening at one of the most impressive testimonial dinners ever given a retiring Justice in this Judicial District. The testimonial dinner was at the Concord Hotel, Kiamasha Lake, Sullivan county.

Over 200 members of the Ulster County Bar Association, their wives and Ulster county friends of Justice Schirick attended. From the other five counties of the Third Judicial District came hundreds of others to pay tribute to Justice Schirick who has reached the mandatory retirement age and will leave the bench on December 31, after a most distinguished career of 26 years on the bench. Some 500 were in attendance at the dinner.

In acknowledging the plaudits of his fellow jurists and friends, Justice Schirick stated that if he deemed his health would permit, he might well accept the appointment as an Official Referee and continue to dispense justice in that capacity as he has done from the trial bench.

The testimonial was sponsored by the Federation of the Bar and the County Bar Associations of the Third Judicial District and there was a large representation from the six counties of the District, Albany, Rensselaer, Schoharie, Sullivan, and Ulster.

Bernard Weiss of Sullivan county, host county, presided.

Justice Bergan Main Speaker
Justice Francis Bergan, presiding justice, Appellate Division, Third Department, who during the evening was referred to as a probable future member of the United States Supreme Court, was principal speaker and paid high tribute to the honored guest, Justice Bergan in part said:

Judge Schirick throughout his life has devoted himself completely and without reservation to any undertaking which has had his attention. In athletics he played hard and well; when he was in politics he gave himself fully to the task; and when he became a judge he turned all his vast energy and concentrated powers toward doing a good judicial job. He never undertook anything halfheartedly; whatever he did, he did as well as he could with unstinted dedication; and that spirit has marked all his endeavors of his life.

The actual work of a judge is lonely and is performed in a sort of isolation. A judge must make his own decision. He may call on clerks for research and advice; or on associates, in a court of several members, for their views; but in the actual crucial point of decision, the judge must act alone on his own best judgment.

$500,000 More Is Ready for People Whom O&W Owes

NEW YORK (AP) — An additional $500,000 will be available for creditors of the defunct New York, Ontario & Western Railway Co.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan praised the railroad's receivers and called their work "an achievement unparalleled in any prior receivership."

The receivers, James B. Kilshimer III and Jacob Grumet, Thursday gave the judge the final accounting of their liquidation of the 540-mile interstate railroad.

The railroad was turned over to the receivers Feb. 9, 1957, after 20 years of unsuccessful efforts to reorganize the company and keep the railroad running.

After a short period of operation under control by the receivers, the railroad was shut down. Its properties were sold for $8,252,820 in June, 1957. In addition, $1,821,000 was received for its 46 diesel locomotives.

The final accounting showed that $871,466 was realized on investments the receivers made with funds in their hands.

The receivers recommended to the judge that $82,967 be the net balance on their operating account be transferred to the capital account for distribution to creditors.

The judge said: "the receivers would pay all receivership expenses out of income, leaving not only the full proceeds of the sale but also approximately $500,000 more for the road's creditors."

The railroad had trackage in New York State, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

AP Experts Analyze Exceptionally Close Verdict

TV, Church, Negro Support Cited Among Factors in Kennedy Victory

Editor's Note: What factors led to John F. Kennedy's election as president? This becomes particularly significant in view of the closeness of the popular vote, the surprise results from some areas and the ballot-splitting in others. Political experts were asked to supply their own analyses. The AP's Arthur Edson, himself a veteran of the political campaigns, summarizes them in the following article.

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON AP—John F. Kennedy has won the presidency, and the question today is, what brought him victory?

Why did Kennedy, and not Richard M. Nixon, win this hairs-breadth decision?

What produced this result, so close in state after state, some won by Kennedy, some by Nixon, the verdict could have gone the other way by shifting comparatively few votes?

Hard to Figure Voters

To find out what's behind this exceptionally close verdict—not in this century have we had such a close one—the Associated Press has called on political experts from New York to California to Hawaii.

Their answers show how difficult it is to figure the voter's mind in this vast country.

In general, the experts seem to agree that Kennedy's Roman Catholicism helped him more than it hurt him, that he won ground on his television appearances, that he won much of the Negro vote, that Nixon lost in economically distressed areas.

In all these explanations, though, there still is no answer to this puzzle:

Since more voters are registered Democratic than Republican, how did Kennedy win so many points and still have such difficulty in pulling through?

But here's a rundown of key states in democracy's most fascinating story, the way it chooses its leader:

OHIO

Possibly no other state provided as big a surprise. Nearly everyone figured Ohio in the bag for Kennedy. Yet its 25 electoral votes went to Nixon, by a fairly substantial margin.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle blames himself. He put through a tax program last year that cost more than three hundred million dollars. This, he says, may have made the Democratic party unpopular.

And DiSalle, a Catholic himself, added: "I guess I would be less than honest if I didn't say the religious issue was an important factor in Ohio."

Michael Bradshaw, editor of the Toledo Blade, disagrees with DiSalle on the importance of the religious issue, particularly in populous industrial northern Ohio. Bradshaw blames the tax increase—and Democratic overconfidence.

SOUTH CAROLINA

If Ohio was the biggest blow to Kennedy, South Carolina must have been the most distressing news to Nixon. Nearly everyone was sure—especially Nixon supporters—that South Carolina's eight electoral votes would swing his way.

The Negro vote helped beat Nixon here, but a heavy Democratic vote by textile workers and an historic South Carolina reluctance to vote Republican were cited as added factors by S. L. Latimer Jr., editor of the Columbia State.

Latimer cited one Negro precinct that gave half its votes to Eisenhower in 1956 but went 4-1 for Kennedy this year.

Both Latimer and Wayne Freeman, editor of the Greenville News, said Negro registration was much heavier than in 1956 and Freeman added: "I think that may have played a part."

"The religious issue worked in reverse in this state, I think," Freeman said. "The Democrats very cleverly kept it alive and turned it to their own advantage."

Ask County Building At Fair, Main Site

It is the "considered opinion" of the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association that there is a definite need for a modern new County Building and that it should be built on the site of the present county clerk's and surrogate's offices at the corner of Fair and Main Streets.

This is what the association said in a letter sent to Thursday night's meeting of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, the first in a series of par-

Action Against Schenectady IUE Is Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The executive board of the International Union of Electrical Workers may decide this weekend whether to punish an IUE local that returned to work before settlement of the union's nationwide strike against the General Electric Co.

The IUE's General Electric Conference Board urged the executive body Thursday to take action against Local 301 in Schenectady, N. Y., for ending its walkout. Local 301 struck five days after the nationwide walkout began. The local returned to work four days before the nationwide strike ended.

Some union members have blamed Leo Jandreau, business agent of Local 301, for causing the return-to-work movement.

A resolution adopted by the conference board said there was no question that, if Jandreau, had kept Local 301 out on strike, "we could have had a satisfactory settlement from GE" instead of accepting GE terms.

The union accepted a three-year contract with GE last month. The 70,000 GE workers represented by the IUE immediately received a 3 per cent wage increase.

The contract also gave the union a choice of taking a 4 per cent pay raise on April 1, 1962, or a 3 per cent raise plus an eighth paid holiday and a leys as part of the annual session.

Next Meeting Nov. 17

The board's next meeting is Thursday, Nov. 17.

There was an explanation of the slow process in planning for a Community College and a committee recommended that enlarging the county jail, on state advice, should be done by building an addition to the present structure on land at the rear of the supervisors' office and meeting room in back of the court house.

In recommending that a new County Building be erected uptown, the business men's letter from C. E. Wonderly, their association president, said "The traffic flow at this particular location (Fair and Main Streets) would place the structure in a most strategic and advantageous position—a far better position than a building located in the Wall and John Street sector, where traffic is far beyond the capacity that the streets were engineered to handle."

The business men also feel that the Fair and Main locale would be better because property available on Pearl Street for entrances and parking would give access to the building from three streets. They also feel that a parking garage attached to the building should not be overlooked.

"This important issue transcends politics," they consider because "the association comprises merchants of both political factions who feel that the need for this project is immediate."

Would Enlarge Jail

The committee on sheriff's department, concerning the overcrowded jail, felt it would be important to renovate the top floor because of its structure and prohibitive costs.

Peter J. Savago, New Paltz; Lester S. Davis, Town of Olive; Republicans, and Michael Ward Jr., Seventh Ward, the Democratic member, unanimously agreed that the only practical solution is to build in back of the supervisors' chambers.

They favor a garage in the building for the sheriff's cars to

MEYER LEVY

Patrolmen Elect Honor Officer as Association Head

Patrolman Meyer Levy was elected president of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association on Thursday to succeed Officer John Crescino who had held the post for two years.

Officer Harry Short was elected vice president, Frank Monte, secretary and Francis Buchanan, financial secretary.

Officer Levy had served as KPA president in 1955. In 1959 he was honored by the Kingston Kiwanis Club as "patrolman of the year," for having saved the life of Officer Crescino while the two were investigating a report that two boys were in trouble in a lime cave off East Strand.

Crescino, probing a water hole, slipped in as his footing gave way and Levy held him above water until other officers arrived. Officer Levy also received a citation from Mayor Edwin F. Radel and the police board.

Officer Crescino on Nov. 17 will receive the Kiwanis Club award honoring him as patrolman of the year for having saved the life of a man who threatened to jump from a roof. He now serves as vice president of the Hudson Valley Conference of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association of New York, and is being considered for the vice presidency of the state association.

Parents Of Stewardess Wed Here Wrong Body Sent Following Crash

An airline hostess, whose parents were married in Rosendale some 27 years ago is a principal in the tragic case of mistaken identity reported by the Associated Press in New York today.

Miss Mary Hawthorne, 26, a tall blonde from New York City, daughter of Mrs. John Schnell and the late Douglas Hawthorne is in grave condition today in a California hospital, and is not the girl whose body was sent to the Bronx for burial earlier this week.

Last Monday, four stewardesses were in a head-on traffic crash while riding in a taxicab near the San Francisco Airport. They were taken to Peninsula Hospital in Burlingame. One stewardess died. And on the basis of a few scattered personal papers found at the scene she was identified as Mary Hawthorne, 26, a tall blonde from New York City.

The survivors underwent surgery. One girl, her face bandaged, remained unconscious. She was identified as Joan Frost, 26, of New York City.

Identifications Wrong

But the identifications were wrong and the body of Miss Frost was shipped to New York for burial.

Aunt in Rosendale

Mrs. Mary Scharmer, Main Street, Rosendale, aunt of Miss Hawthorne said her husband's sister and Douglas Hawthorne were married in Rosendale Reformed Church and then moved to the Bronx.

Miss Hawthorne's father was killed in an accident about eight years ago, and the mother subsequently married John Schnell.

Mrs. Scharmer said she and her husband were notified of the mistaken identity at 2:20 a. m. Thursday.

Coroner Paul Jensen, 52, of San Mateo county, said identification

$1.4 Million Going Out in Christmas Club Area Checks

Christmas Club checks totaling close to $1,500,000 will be distributed to area residents by Kingston banks this weekend.

This is an exceptionally large amount of Christmas Club savings, it is reported.

After making a survey of the eight local financial institutions, the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce revealed that a total of slightly over $1,416,500 will be mailed out in checks. Most of the checks should be in the hands of Yule savers by Monday.

A Chamber spokesman said that this record amount of savings indicates the thrift of local people and is a major factor in stimulating holiday season business.

It is understood that some of the banking houses mailed the checks Thursday and that all would be in the mail by Saturday.

Red Feather Total Today Is $112,507 Through IBM

The Kingston IBM Federal Systems Division employees and Corporation contributed $52,000 to the 1961 Kingston Area Community Chest Appeal, which brings the total raised to date, to $112,507, or 90 per cent of the goal.

The corporation gift was presented to Harold H. Heider, general campaign chairman, by Richard J. Whalen, general manager of IBM, and the employee gift was presented to Robert L. Strickland, vice chairman of the Business and Industry Division of the Chest's 1961 campaign, by W. T. Sinsbaugh, president of the Employees IBM Club.

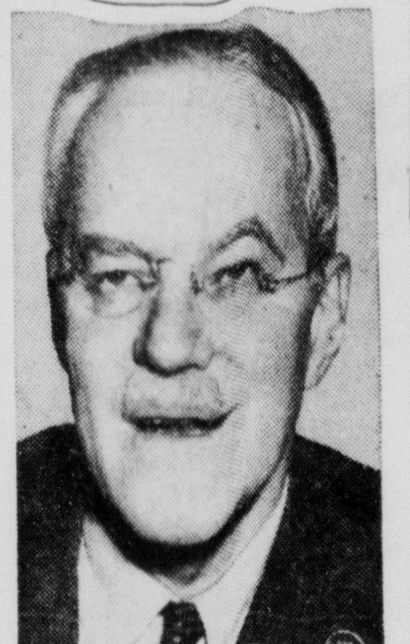

The total contribution from the employees and corporation represents 41 per cent of the total goal of $125,000.

Mr. Heider and Mr. Strickland expressed their deep apprecia-

J. EDGAR HOOVER

STAYING ON JOBS—Two incumbents under the Eisenhower administration—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Allen W. Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency—will remain in office when President-elect John F. Kennedy assumes head of the U. S. government on Jan. 20, 1961. The successful Democratic presidential nominee yesterday requested both Hoover and Dulles to remain in office and both agreed.

ALLEN W. DULLES

Irregularities Are Noted in Six States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Thurston B. Morton has asked state and county GOP chairmen to investigate charges of voting irregularities, particularly in Texas, the Carolinas, Illinois, Michigan and New Jersey.

Many Complaints

A spokesman for the Republican National Committee said Thursday it had received many complaints alleging fraud, vote buying and other irregularities.

The spokesman said Morton had asked local officials to determine the facts and advise him and the Justice Department if they found a substantial basis for the complaints.

The New York Herald Tribune said today that allegations of election irregularities in several states caused Republican leaders to check all returns—and wonder if their concession of victory to Sen. John F. Kennedy might have been premature.

Sees Switch Possible

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper added that one top Republican figure told the Herald Tribune that if "half the reports we've been getting can be run down quickly enough to be proven," it is "quite possible" that Vice President Richard M. Nixon would become president-elect.

The story also said in part: Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the Nixon campaign, was less optimistic. He said a mass of reports from "almost a dozen states" indicated there had been serious irregularities—especially in Texas and Illinois. But he said his offhand view was that it may be too late to "catch enough of it" to switch the election result.

U. S. Probe Looms

It was learned, however, that a preliminary survey at a conference Thursday convinced party leaders that the situation was serious enough to warrant challenges and possible federal investigations.

On the basis of unofficial returns, it seemed possible—although an extremely remote possibility—that the final outcome

Saugerties Town Board Approves $158,445 Budget

The $158,445 budget for 1961 which provides for part of the town hall expansion program was approved at a special meeting of Saugerties Town Board Thursday afternoon following a public hearing.

No tax rate can be estimated until the county budget is completed and county charges added to the town's appropriation figures.

Although the budget figure reflects an increase of $12,469 over last year's $145,976, no great increase in the tax rate is anticipated, Supervisor Peter M. Williams said.

There has been an increase in estimated revenue over last year of $9,300 made possible by increased per capita state aid on the latest population figures.

The $12,200 expended for the purchase of the old Saugerties Savings Bank building will be paid for out of the general fund over a period of five years, and without an increase in taxes.

The township does not raise a general tax for the operation of local government. The increase in the budget is the result of higher appropriations for the highway department.

The highway fund appropriation in the budget totals $88,115 with state aid estimated at $9,613, leaving $78,502 to be raised by taxation.

Although highway appropriations in the 1961 budget show an increase of $5,589, unexpended balances, if no emergency arises before the end of the year, would leave only approximately $3,000 to be raised by taxes for highway maintenance.

The total general cost of government excluding highway is listed at $69,330, which includes salaries and other administrative costs of $39,385; public safety $7,200; welfare $6,500; debt and purchase of bank building $3,955; miscellaneous $400 and contingency fund $2,000.

Estimated revenues totaling $74,382.32 includes per capita state aid of $13,157.32; unexpended balance $7,000; license fees and fines $3,400; and other departmental earnings $1,625.

Girl Reported Missing

Police were notified Thursday night that Patricia Ann Cooper, 20, of 14 Van Buren Street, has been missing from home since 10 p. m. Wednesday. She was described as five feet one inch tall, weighing 115 pounds with dark blond hair. She wore a light tan jacket with fur collar, brown plaid slacks and a black kerchief.

Sets Work Vacation In South

Others Selected By President-Elect

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy flies to Palm Beach today to begin a working vacation, with a schedule that includes completing the blueprint of his Cabinet and a conference in Texas with his running mate Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

There were indications that he might ask President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon to shoulder important responsibilities in the incoming government.

Adlai in Plans

And Adlai E. Stevenson, twice Democratic candidate for president, appeared to be in his plans somewhere. Considerable speculation has centered on the possibility that Stevenson might be the next secretary of state.

Kennedy was moving ahead, full-tilt, with the business of government, barely 48 hours after winning the presidential election.

He announced that two super-important positions already are filled—by requesting the incumbents to remain in office.

They are Allen W. Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency and J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Both agreed to stay.

As to other possible appointments, Kennedy said this in his first news conference as president-elect:

Will Talk to Ike

Q. (On Eisenhower)—"You told President Eisenhower that you hoped his long experience could be drawn on further in the years to come. Have you anything specifically in mind?"

A. "I have some thoughts, but I thought I would wait until I talked to him about it."

Q. (On Nixon)—"Is there any possibility that you might ask him to serve?"

A. "I would rather talk with him before I would say anything. I think we ought—I don't know what he is planning to do."

Q. (On Stevenson)—"Do you plan to give a major role in your administration to Adlai Stevenson?"

A. "I talked to Gov. Stevenson yesterday on the matter of—I would prefer to postpone until I come back to the whole question of roles, appointments, responsibilities."

Kennedy also announced that he has named Clark Clifford, Washington lawyer, to be his representative as liaison with the Eisenhower administration during the period between now and the day he takes office. Clifford served as special counsel to former President Truman.

The duties of the liaison agent are to meet regularly with government officials and to keep the president-elect advised on developments in defense, foreign affairs, the preparation of the budget, etc.—to be the main link

Kennedy's Lead Now at 278,277 In Popular Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Trickling late returns from Tuesday's election cut Sen. John F. Kennedy's popular vote lead down today to 278,277 out of nearly 70 million ballots tabulated. That gave him 50.2 per cent of the total.

The count, with only 1.875 of the nation's 166,078 voting units unreported: Kennedy 33,567,212, Vice President Richard M. Nixon 33,288,935.

The revisions, minor in relation to the record total, had no effect on the electoral vote outcome.

Kennedy had 300 votes, well above the required 269, and held a thin lead for 32 more in California. The California outcome will be determined by the count of more than 200,000 absentee ballots next week.

Nixon had 188 and a lead for 3 more in Alaska with a few dozen remote polling places unreported.

$52,000 FROM IBM CORPORATION AND EMPLOYEES—Making contributions to the Kingston Area Community Chest are Richard J. Whalen (left), general manager, IBM, handling corporation check to Harold H. Heider, general campaign chairman, and William T. Sinsbaugh (far right), president of Employees IBM Club, presenting contribution to Robert L. Strickland, co-chairman of Chest Business and Industry Division. The total contribution amounts to $52,000.

Think It Through

TOO MUCH LOVE

"Being loved is an unreliable alternative for a foreign policy. It is enough to be respected."

Thus spoke Gen. Nathan F. Twining, retiring Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. This is the best statement I've seen of what has gone wrong in our foreign policy—from the President down. Too many decisions have been made by men who love to be loved.

There is plenty of room for love in private charity, hospitals, schools and church missions in foreign lands. Anyone who feels that our State Department doesn't do enough for the love of our fellow men should contribute more to these private agencies.

But when charity gets into political hands it becomes suspected of non-charitable purposes. For no politician ever gives your money away for love alone.

Political charity is collected by force (taxes) and dispensed in foreign countries through political channels, i.e., politicians. In every country, there are people who don't like their politicians in power, and don't like us for giving them the gravy to strengthen their grip.

Foreign missions of all kinds that are financed by private charitable contributions make friends. Political charity makes both enemies and ingrates.

General Twining also said: "No free nation will benefit in the long run if we lose the capacity for unilateral action in our own security interests. . . . We need to be tough-minded in our foreign relations."

This sounds like George Washington's FAREWELL ADDRESS.

TO SPEAK AND ACT

It is fitting to look back, on Veterans' Day—to keep green the memory of all those, in the countless multitude of the dead, who once fought for their country. But looking back to honor the dead is not all. It is fitting, too, and in a sense the greatest honor we can pay the fallen, to look forward and think of how to assure that their sacrifice will not have been in vain.

Many attacks have been made, in times past, on the citadels of freedom. The most intensive of these attacks have been mounted in terms of armed force seeking destruction of peoples and governments that have defended freedom. It is in such conflicts that those we honor today were engaged. But there is a larger conflict, less dramatic than warfare yet no less threatening to the rights we cherish. The fight to preserve and strengthen freedom against the onslaught of those who seek to destroy or pervert freedom is a fight in which there can be no armistice.

All Americans, whether they like it or not, are involved in this fight. It is a cause to which the nation is profoundly committed by all that is best and most noble in its tradition. This, then, is an American's best means of honoring the fallen—to devote himself in fullest measure to the cause of freedom. Not to await the call to duty in time of war, but to speak and act this very day and on following days in behalf of liberty and human rights.

KEEPING OUR GUARD UP

The late summer and early autumn of the fateful year 1940 was, for most Americans, a time of great anxiety and uncertainty. Even now, twenty years later, the mood of those days is fresh in the minds of us. Veterans Day, 1960, seems to provide an appropriate occasion to reflect upon this aspect of the passing parade of U. S. History.

This was the situation twenty years ago across the Atlantic. France had fallen. The Battle of Britain was raging. In the Pacific Japan was on the march. Here at home the U. S. military establishment fell considerably short of adequate standards of operational readiness.

Then in the early fall of 1940 came the greatest mass mobilization in the peacetime history of the United States. President Franklin D. Roosevelt ordered out the National Guard and many of us remember the local units leaving the armories and starting down the long road that would lead, ultimately, to the field of battle. This memory serves to point up the special significance that this Veterans Day holds for some 472,000 National Guardsmen to the current day force.

Numerous veterans, actually 80 per cent of the officers and non-coms, form the backbone of the Guard today. The lessons of the past are not lost upon them and the fact that they continue to retain their association with the military is testimony to their determination to put these lessons to good use.

Thanks to these veterans, to the young men who have entered the ranks, to the unstinting support of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force and to the State governments the National Guard in 1960 stands at the very pinnacle of its 300-year history. It is, indeed, "Keeping Our Guard Up" in the true sense of these words for it has grasped the full meaning of the lesson of twenty years ago.

TWO TENS FOR A FIVE?

A gang has been unmasked in Cincinnati which had a unique scheme for making money. Riding along behind a truck in an old jalopy, one of the members would wait until the truck signaled for a change of lane and then jam the heap into the bigger vehicle. There were about 75 claims against insurance companies. Alas for simpler days when a "con game" consisted of selling a gold brick or the Brooklyn Bridge.

"These Days"

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
THE CONFERENCE OF IDEAS

The Communist world meets at its Summit not to discuss events but ideas. To such practical men as have been managing the Presidential campaign in the United States, this meeting at the Summit of the Communist leaders of all the world is called to settle a question that affects the life of every human being in this world:

"Can the world revolution be accomplished without a war to destroy the capitalistic nations?"

Khrushchev believes that it can be done without a war.

Mao Tze-tung believes that a war is essential.

This is a contest over fundamentalism in Marxism. Marx believed that struggle, force brings on fundamental changes in society. Lenin accepted the thesis but added to it guile, infiltration, the stimulation of suicidal tendencies among strong but liberal nations. Both Marx and Lenin were strictly theoreticians although Lenin for a few years before his death had to face the very practical problems of governing a large country. Stalin was not a theoretician. He had to deal with very practical problems. He could not wait for the world revolution but had to establish socialism in one country and as fast as possible. He permitted no time-wasting deviations. He resurrected Ivan the Terrible and Russian nationalism and became an absolute monarch. His achievements were stupendous, probably unequalled in history, but they were accomplished by every sin in the lexicon of evil.

Khrushchev's problem is very different from that which faced either Lenin or Stalin. First of all, he deals with a literate people and no matter how rigid a censorship may be, the mind of man somehow will find truth if he can read and write. Secondly, he must discover a way to live with the Western world or he will be driven back upon Asia and will be forced, by circumstances, to become subservient to China. Finally, his people have either seen or have heard rumors of plentiful consumers' goods. They want some. They want more.

Khrushchev wants peace which he calls competitive co-existence, but he does not know how to get it. To make a concession to the West, the slightest one, will inflame the Fundamentalists. To refuse to make concessions means an intensification of the Cold War. The United States has so far exceeded the Russian missile and rocket program that Russian superiority can no longer be used for propaganda purposes, where it was most effective for a two-year period. Khrushchev must convince all Communists, including the Chinese, to accept his program or he will be forced out of power.

Had he not utterly failed at the General Assembly of the United Nations, Khrushchev's problems would not be so troublesome. He does not understand the quality of power, of Chad having one vote and Soviet Russia having one vote.

Now Mao Tze-tung challenges Khrushchev to go to war—not the Cold War, not competitive co-existence, but a fighting war with no holds barred. Mao can afford that. He can readily afford to lose 300,000,000 Chinese. In fact, according to his philosophy they should welcome the opportunity to be killed for their country. Mao then takes the line that Khrushchev is not a true Communist; that he has been corrupted by the soft life of the West; that he actually fears war and has therefore betrayed the Marxist-Leninist doctrine of struggle to the death between capitalism and socialism.

This then is what we face. In the Communist world there are no elections and no votes as we understand them. There is a dialectical method of thesis, antithesis, synthesis out of which comes the truth. Once the truth is established in men's minds, those who deviate from the truth are evil and must be destroyed.

As a people, we like action. We like to describe action. We are not given to theorizing. However, our opponents are given to what we call theorizing and whether we shall have war or peace depends in a large measure upon what the Communist leaders believe to be true. Their training is to set their theories in order before they act; they never take an action unless it serves their basic Marxist theories, modified by further study and decisions. The leaders among Communists are usually not the technicians but the party theoreticians and operatives.

It is a different technique of life and thought from ours and we had better understand it. (Copyright, 1960, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Miracle Drug Tale Gives

New Hope to the Afflicted

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The first episode in this medical "fairy tale" told how a forgotten dye for textiles became the first of the miracle anti-infectives.

Then the source of a mouth drug that could replace insulin injections in certain diabetics.

Then a new and effective tool for the control of severe acne.

And then an apparent cause for the temporary relief of the symptoms of multiple sclerosis in a young man who was being given the drug merely to clear his skin condition.

Being a well-trained and cautious physician, Dr. Glen Thomas Sawyer, who treated the young man with acne and multiple sclerosis, repeated the experiment on seven other multiple sclerosis. "Definite improvement in symptoms and signs was seen in all patients except when a high carbohydrate diet was suddenly started. Deterioration was always seen when placebo capsules (for sham treatment) were substituted for the tetracycline," Dr. Sawyer reports in the Journal of the American Medical Assn.

But that's not the end of the story. For Drs. E. W. Gates and I. Hyman, after giving the drug to patients with shaking palsy (parkinsonism), describe a reduction in the tremor and rigidity of the disease although the blood sugar level remained constant throughout the course of treatment.

Nor is the end in sight. For we shall undoubtedly see a flood of reports in the near future detailing the effects of tetracycline on other mysterious diseases, hitherto resistant to treatment. Now while I feel an impelling obligation to report these observations, especially to the many disheartened readers who've written for helpful suggestions in the conditions referred to, I beg you to use this information with care and discretion.

Please remember that these are preliminary reports of drug effects in conditions that pursue a variable course. Do not let your expectations soar too rapidly despite the fact that these observations have been made by competent and reliable physicians.

Please don't try to obtain the drug without your doctor's knowledge and consent. Please don't attempt self-treatment without constant medical supervision of drug dosages and drug effects. Please bear in mind that the drug is not curative even if it does relieve symptoms.

If you are fortunate enough to get a good effect, don't reduce the dose or stop taking your medicine altogether unless you're told to do so by your doctor.

And, if you're one of the less fortunate ones who fails to get a sustained good effect, don't go into a nose dive. Who would have believed that a textile dye could accomplish the miracles to which we've already been witness? And who can deny that another medical fairy tale is in the making at this very moment?

"Room Service Has Defected, Fidel"

Washington News

BY JERRY BENNETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—An army fatigue cap landed in the political ring just before election day. Pro-Castro agents received orders from Havana instructing them to relay this message to all Americans of Cuban descent:

"Don't vote for either Nixon or Kennedy. Instead, write in 'Fidel Castro.'"

POLITICAL PROPHETS who guessed wrong and lost bets on the election result may get some solace out of a story told by George E. Allen, White House crony of both Presidents Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower. Allen, maintaining his legal residence in Washington, didn't vote himself. And he refused to make any predictions before the election. He tells this story to explain why:

Once upon a time there was a king whose doctors told him if he ever got wet, he would die of pneumonia. So his majesty ordered all the court astrologers to go wherever he went. They were supposed to watch the weather and insure that he never got caught out in the rain.

But one beautiful summer's day, when there wasn't a cloud in the sky, the king went for a walk alone. Suddenly a peasant rushed from the field and shouted to him, "Your majesty, take cover. It's going to rain." The king took refuge in the peasant's hut just before a cloudburst. When it was over, he asked how the peasant had known it would rain.

"I was plowing in the field with my mule," said the peasant, "when suddenly his right ear twitched. I have noted that whenever this mule's right ear twitched, it rained."

The king thereupon decreed that monuments to the mule be erected throughout his kingdom. And ever since that day, every jackass has considered himself an infallible prophet.

PARTY-GOERS are drinking "The River Kwai." It's a new cocktail consisting of Japanese sake poured over crushed ice with a dash of Worcestershire sauce.

DR. WILLIAM B. WALSH, director of Project HOPE, the floating U. S. medical school now training doctors and nurses in Indonesia, flew back to Washington and reported that the project is even more popular than expected.

"Soon after docking," Walsh explained, "we were visited by three ambassadors from Iron Curtain countries. They all wanted physical examinations."

WASHINGTON executive Dave Apter has come up with a novel way to entertain clients. He takes them for rides on his new Italian motor scooter. Dave bought the powerful two-wheeler last summer and has been riding it to and from the office ever since.

Now whenever he makes a luncheon appointment, he offers to transport his guest on the scooter. So far he has never been turned down. In fact, Dave says the breezy rides have become so popular that he is thinking about buying a side car.

BEFORE ADDRESSING the annual American Forest Products industries convention here, Wall Street Economist Charles T. Broderick quipped: "All I know about trees is that they have branches, that Joyce Kilmer wrote a poem about them and that they provided excellent cover for enemy soldiers who shot at me in World War 2.

GUESTS AT a going-away party for Greek Naval Attache C. S. Denezakos asked what he liked most about America. The officer-diplomat responded with a list of favorites ranging from a television to southern hospitality. "And of course there's Manhattan," he said.

"What can you possibly like about New York?" a staunch Washington supporter asked. "I don't mean the city," Denezakos replied. "I'm talking about the drink."

The Mature Parent

Favoring of One Child Is Not Necessarily Love

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

Before our son was born my husband was crazy about our little girl. Everyone noticed it. But now that the baby is growing, he's changed toward her.

Any quarrel they have is always her fault. He boasts about what a fine, manly little boy Stan is but scarcely has a word for Linda. If I object to this partiality, he denies he shows it.

ANSWER: Do you equate your husband's partiality for your son with affection for the child? If so, you may be too much impressed by it to be able to discuss it with him fearlessly.

It may be important for you to see that we do not demonstrate affection for a child by showing him preference over his brothers and sisters. Indeed, we are demonstrating quite the opposite. We are making him the butt of our other children's jealousy.

Usually, without knowing it, we are using the favored child to express the secret bitterness we feel ourselves as children when a brother or sister seemed to be depriving us of the attention, pleasures or justifications we thought belonged to us.

Is your husband the brother of an older sister? It is very easy for a father who has grown up in the shadow of an admired, dominating sister to see himself in his daughter's little brother. If he isn't aware of his own childhood's feelings of rage and helplessness, he will imagine that his little son is experiencing these same feelings toward his sister when she quarrels with him.

He will rush to champion the boy as he used to yearn for his own parents to justify him. He will be quite unconscious of the influence these childish experiences are exerting on his behavior because they were so painful and unhappy that he doesn't want to remember them.

Thus, the parent who shows favoritism toward one of his children is usually showing it toward the deprived and put-upon youngster he used to feel himself to be.

So They Say..

The average American family now spends about $16 a month on nonprescription or over-the-counter products. Many actually bring little benefit from a health standpoint.

—American Medical Assn.

The fate of humanity can no longer be decided by a few large and powerful nations. We too—the younger nations—have a word to say, and that word will surely echo down the years.

—Indonesian President Sukarno.

I believe it's a tradition in baseball that when a pitcher has a no-hitter going no one reminds him of it.

—President Eisenhower, now 70 and oldest president in history.

Perils Seen in Transition; Better System Is Urged

By DAVI D LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—Do the American people have the faintest idea of what they have done to their government by their votes on election day? Do they know the dangers and even possible tragedy of transition in government as one administration takes over from another?

Some day the American people ought to be told the whole truth so they will be persuaded to change the present system, which is antiquated and ill suited for a nuclear age.

What better time, for instance, for a foreign government to begin playing with fire and to precipitate a crisis than today? Virtually all the administration's top policy makers and experienced officials must begin to pack their bags. Their interest now turns to their private affairs. The workload is going to be somebody else's responsibility in a few weeks away.

As for the knowledge and experience accumulated in nearly eight years of service, these are to be tossed away as a new personnel takes over and starts to learn what it is all about.

Sen. Kennedy is a conscientious individual, who will try to make a good President. But he must learn first the intimate background of public affairs. This takes not a few weeks but many months and perhaps years. It's a high price for the nation to pay?

Is there some other way? The British and many other English-speaking countries have a better system. It is called the "Parliamentary" system. It requires the electorate to pick in an election their representatives in the national legislature, and these representatives select the leader who becomes responsible for the executive as well as the legislative branches of the government.

If the party in power makes mistakes and loses the confidence of the people, it can be ousted at any time, or a new legislature can be elected. A permanent personnel, known as the "career service," functions continuously in high posts irrespective of the party in power. Thus is continuity assured and transition made smooth.

Certainly there is need to study thoroughly the present system. Thus, out of the nearly 67,000,000 votes cast this week, the narrowest of margins—less than a half of 1 per cent—separate the victor from the loser.

A few states are given large electoral votes because of their large population, but within those states the big cities have a power superior to those of the smaller communities. The system is obviously inequitable. It has been suggested that the electoral vote be apportioned on the basis of Congressional districts and that a majority within a state shall not be given the right to cast the entire electoral vote of a state, as happens today.

Reforms are plainly needed, and it is interesting to note that Sen. Mike Mansfield, assistant Democratic leader in the Senate—who is slated to succeed Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas in the leadership post—is in the forefront of those advocating a reform in the national election process.

Sen. Kennedy is an attractive personality and shows much promise, but the fact is he has never been selected as leader of his own party in either house of Congress. Under a parliamentary system, Sen. Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn would have been in line for the Presidency. These men have been elected repeatedly to leadership.

The current period of transition should open the eyes of the country to the risks of our present system.

Crown American Wives As World's Best Sports

American wives come in for a lot of criticism but there's one thing nobody can say and that is that they aren't good sports.

Look around you at all the no-so-young wives crawling in and out of sports cars (and, truth to tell, feeling a little idiotic driving around in them) because driving sports cars makes their husbands feel young.

Look at all the wives who overcome their fears of guns and their distaste for killing because their husbands want to teach them how to hunt.

Look at all the wives of retired men keeping house in trailers because a home on wheels appeals to their men.

Look at all the wives who good-naturedly let their husbands make a shambles of the kitchen because they fancy themselves as chefs.

Look at all the wives who work because they have to, yet pretend that they would be bored to death staying at home all day.

Look at all the women who starve themselves so that their husbands can be proud of their youthful good looks.

Look at all the wives of men working for big corporations who work at being perfect wives from the point of view of big business in order to help their husbands get ahead.

Look at all the young wives putting their husbands through college, even though it means that they can't finish their own educations.

American wives may have their faults—but nobody can say they aren't good sports.

They will knock themselves out to do anything they think will make their husbands happy.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON DISCUSSES SAVINGS

BABSON PARK, Mass., Nov. 11 — Up until a few months ago, the popular subject of discussion was the so-called "golden sixties" business boom. Expectations were based largely upon the projected growth in population and consumer spending — predicated upon the free-spending attitude of consumers since the end of World War II. Consumers have upset the applecart, however, by exhibiting greater patience with regard to building new homes and purchasing durable goods. Moreover, they are putting away larger amounts in savings. The net result has been a slowing down of industrial activity.

Putting the Brakes on Inflation

Political promises have been thrown at voters by the candidates in an attempt to claim credit for halting inflation. The truth of the matter is that the bulk of the credit belongs to the consumers. Although Federal monetary policies designed to tighten credit can dampen inflationary pressures, it is the voluntary action of consumers which determines spending and borrowing.

By sticking to a systematic and intelligent savings program, the readers of this column can both help check inflation and lay the groundwork for a healthy period of future economic growth. Current legislation suggested by politicians appears very tempting; but it is the old-fashioned habit of THRIFT which, in the long run, will promote sound business growth and hold down inflation.

What About Savings?

At the present time, the rate of individual savings has been increased to over $25 billion a year. This is almost $1 billion more than people saved in the 1958 recession year, and almost $2 billion more than they put away last year. In addition, by easing up on bank borrowings and whittling down their outstanding loans, consumers have held the inflationary rise of consumer debt in check.

The task of saving today is made easier by the record level of personal income. However, this increase in income presents also a strong inducement to indiscriminate spending. Hence, the fact that consumers have voluntarily chosen to put aside more money for the future makes me more optimistic on the future of this country!

Putting Savings to Work

In recent years, the low interest rate on savings bonds has discouraged saving via that sector. In fact, many people have been cashing in such bonds. At long last the Government has raised the interest rate on these bonds to make them competitive with other savings media; so it may be that savings will again be put into government savings bonds.

Savings accounts in commercial banks, mutual savings banks, and savings and loan associations are at an all-time high. Savings in the form of life insurance — including endowments and annuities — also continue to increase to new record levels. These, of course, are old stand-bys for savings. Today more people are funneling savings into real estate and the stock market — either directly, or indirectly through the purchase of Mutual Investment Trust shares.

Guard Your Nest Egg

I am not worried about those people who have a fair proportion of their savings in bank deposits and government bonds. I am, however, fearful for the neophytes who are attempting to "get rich quick" in real estate or the stock market. These people too often neglect to build up first a cushion of cash reserves. The decline of over a hundred points in the stock market this year, and the lagging real estate market, show that investing is not a one-way affair . . . always going up. Market declines are a natural occurrence, and they can hurt those who invest indirectly through the various Funds as well as those who do their own buying of stocks, real estate, etc.

In view of the uncertain world conditions and domestic business maladjustments, my advice is to build up cash reserves and wait patiently for real bargain investment opportunities. Your thriftiness—not that of the politicians—is the hope for healthy business.

Allege Teamster Leader Took Union $12,114

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — An ousted Teamster Union local president allegedly drew $12,114 from the union in 1953 for personal expenses, according to testimony at his federal income tax trial.

Ernest G. Belles, who was dismissed in 1954 on charges of mismanagement of funds of Teamster local 375, received nine checks at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. totaling that amount.

U.S. Atty. Neil R. Farnelo said Thursday.

The trials stems from Belles alleged failure to report the $12,114 as income.

Cadillac

Some secrets its owner can't keep!

We wouldn't go so far as to say that your life is an open book when you're seen in the company of a new Cadillac car.

But we will admit that at least a few of the pages have been turned.

For a Cadillac indicates—with unmistakable clarity and eloquence—the personal virtues that lead a man to the "car of cars".

Beautiful, distinctive and substantial—it reflects his eminence in his field of endeavor . . . and testifies to what he has made of his years.

Gracious, spacious and luxurious—it denotes his desire for comfort . . . and his concern for the well-being of his family and passengers.

Practical, sound, and desired—it evidences his awareness of the true aspects of value and quality.

And if a Cadillac has historically cast such credit on its owner—how much more grandly it will do so in 1961!

For the car now offers more of everything to inspire the respect of those who behold it.

Its styling is graceful as never before. Its interiors are remarkably generous in every dimension. And its performance and ride make every journey a miracle of motion.

You ought to inspect and drive this 1961 Cadillac.

Your dealer will be delighted to accommodate you. And we wager you'll quickly see the wisdom of letting the "car of cars" reveal a few discreet secrets about you.

Flashing Signals Ordered by PSC At 3 Crossings

A Public Service Commission order rules that automatic flashing signals are to be installed next spring on First, Second and Third Avenue grade crossings, an Albany report revealed today.

The order, the report said, "results from a petition filed with the PSC by area residents requesting additional protection at the crossings. City officials at the crossings, at a public hearing urging installation of warning lights." Among them was Supervisor Joseph J. Turck (D), Fourth Ward, who had requested the hearing.

The railroad had proposed flagging trains at the crossings by crew members.

The work is to be finished by May 1, 1961, with the state paying half the cost.

It was testified that highway traffic over the crossings includes some 850 automobiles and trucks, up to 14 school buses, almost 300 adult pedestrians and more than 200 children.

In a report to the Commission, Examiner F. Leonard Titus says approach views at each of the crossings are limited and that "drivers proceeding southerly when the streets are slippery are likely to have some difficulty in stopping before reaching the crossings" because of descending street grades. He adds:

"The short distances between the streets and the relatively steep track grade add to the safety problem of these crossings. Trains sometimes stall on the grade at present and, if required to stop and flag, would have to be shortened, thereby resulting in additional movements over the crossing. The length of the trains on the downgrade movements is sufficient at times to block one crossing while stopping for the next, thereby causing delays to highway traffic."

Titus said that on the basis of the volumes of traffic on the highways and the railroad, the grades and curvature of the track, the grades of the street and the poor views along the track, "automatic flashing light signals would provide a more adequate means of protection than that proposed by the company."

"Here you have the situation—four girls arriving at the hospital all in the same uniforms. All with the same hairdos, and all with the same type of attire," he said.

The body of the dead girl had been placed in a sealed casket and when she arrived here the lid remained closed.

Only a sentimental gesture on the part of Miss Hawthorne's friends halted the funeral, scheduled for Thursday.

Norma Pugh, also an American Airlines Stewardess, and another of Miss Hawthorne's friends, Robert Evans, an American flight engineer, went to the Bronx funeral home Wednesday to pay their last respects.

Had Ring

Miss Pugh had one of Miss Hawthorne's favorite rings—a pearl friendship ring. She and Evans asked that the coffin be opened so they could place the ring on Mary's finger.

"Oh, my God," cried Evans. "That's not Mary."

They called Mary's stepfather and her mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Schnell, of the Bronx.

Hurried calls were placed to California.

The bandaged girl regained consciousness Thursday and murmured: "I'm Mary Hawthorne."

The correct identification came as a shock to Thomas Frost, father of the dead girl. He had flown to California to be near the girl he thought to be his daughter. He couldn't know that her body was in a funeral home across the country.

When told, he collapsed. He and his son, William, 21, flew to their Philadelphia home last night. He was too grief-stricken to comment.

Three Boys Toss $188,613 to Wind

DETROIT (AP)—Three boys tossed $188,613 to the wind Thursday.

The money was in the form of non-negotiable checks, however.

The boys, 9 and 10 years old, found the checks under a mail box. They were marked for delivery to a Detroit bank. The boys tried to cash them, but couldn't.

So they tossed them away. Someone saw them and told police, who recovered all but about a thousand dollars' worth.

The checks were stamped so that they could only be deposited to a special account.

The boys were not held.

Virtually all other basic service in the Harlem Division will be continued, the Public Service Commission said today in authorizing revisions in service.

The railroad had sought to make more extensive changes in its Harlem Division between Grand Central Station in New York City and Chatham.

The line said it wanted to save $100,000. The PSC said the changes it recommended and authorized would enable the Central to save that much without a further reduction in service.

Benefits Told Under Board's Take-Home Plan

Benefits resulting to Ulster County employees from passage of the 5 per cent "take-home-pay" measure by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors were discussed this week by Patrick G. Rogers, field representative of the State Civil Service Employees Association, in an address before members of the Ulster County Welfare Department.

Rogers also explained the advantages of membership in the state association.

Members of the welfare group expressed growing concern over the "obvious disregard" for their financial plight by the board of supervisors, pointing out that their salaries are far below that of county employees in other areas.

The CSEA representative indicated that an all-out effort would be made to induce the county to recognize and improve the situation.

The group was invited to participate in the next meeting of the Ulster County Chapter, CSEA, Nov. 28 in Kingston. James Martin of Kingston is president of the local chapter.

ment. This tends, sometimes, to separate a judge from the community; but if he actually becomes separated from the mainstream of life, he becomes academic, sterile, and theoretical and loses his value to the community as the umpire of its controversies.

He must somehow succeed in keeping human friendships and ties and at the same time acting fairly and impartially. Judge Schirick has succeeded in maintaining that delicate balance. In this crucial and difficult area, the judge finds the constant help and support and encouragement of his own profession a matter of vital importance.

Qualities of Good Judge

Vincent G. Connelly, confidential secretary to Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth, chairman of the Ulster County committee on arrangements, and a long time friend of Justice Schirick spoke in behalf of the Bar of Justice Schirick's home county. In part Attorney Connelly said:

What qualities make a good judge? Summing up, they are: Independence, common sense, patience; a firm sense of dignity but at the same time a sense of humor; an affection for people and an understanding of them and their endless hopes, dreams, ambitions, religious, social beliefs, and economic pursuits; vigilance and a will of iron if need be; and complete detachment. He must never allow his personal opinion of the law be his administering to control his decision, but at the same time he must work to change the law, if he thinks it is a bad one. He must have a broad capacity for understanding men, and he must never be arrogant, but always sufficiently studious, to keep abreast of the ever-advancing law, and he must strive to improve the system with which he functions.

All these qualities are necessary—but more is required—the application of these aptitudes wisely and at the right times. And what is the judge with these qualities and with the skill to apply them day to day in the courts?

He is a man who bears himself in his community with friends but without familiarity; devoting himself exclusively to the law as a profession in its highest reaches, where he not only interprets the law but applies it, fearing neither friend nor foe, fearing only one thing in the world—that in a moment of abstraction, or due to human weakness, he may in fact commit some error and fail to do justice.

That is the good judge—and particularly the good judge we honor tonight.

Among those who spoke, paying tribute to Justice Schirick was Judge John M. Cashion, former Ulster County Judge and now U. S. District Judge. Judge Cashion, roommate of Justice Schirick at Cornell University, spoke in glowing terms of the guest and revealed some "side-lights" on their college career.

Other speakers

Other who were presented and spoke were:

Justice William Deckelman, Sullivan County; Hon. Sydney E. Foster, associate judge of the Court of Appeals who was re-elected at the last election; Justice Herbert Hamm; Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth; Justice Isadore Bookstein, who was re-elected to the bench at the last election.

Justices Donald S. Taylor and Kenneth S. MacAffer, fellow justices with the guest, were unable to attend.

Numerous congratulatory telegrams from prominent persons were read.

Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth of Port Ewen, who will become senior justice with the retirement of Justice Schirick, spoke of Justice Schirick's career on the bench and referred to him as a jurist of great determination, sincerity and with a "most distinguished" career on the bench.

Justice Schirick was presented with a plaque and "candid pictures" taken during the evening of the festivities will be bound in a volume and presented to him.

In reply Justice Schirick thanked his fellow jurists and friends for the honor accorded him and said the memories of his career on the bench would always be cherished.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Today's business uncertainties may become tomorrow's trends before President-elect John F. Kennedy takes the oath of office 10 weeks from today.

The problems are serious enough to give even a young and confident man pause. His plans for meeting them may be hampered by his lack of a strong majority in the popular vote and by the prospects of a conservative coalition still carrying great and perhaps decisive weight in the Congress.

Everyone Involved
You are involved in the outcome through your job, your family budget, the prices you pay, the value of your dollar, the profits of your company, the market value of your stocks, the interest you get or pay.

At home we should know for sure by Jan. 20 if we're in for a recession. The signs have been all around—but their significance has been somewhat belogged by campaign oratory of those who think them over-rated and those who think them dangerously ignored.

And within a short time we should get a better idea of the effectiveness of remedies presently being tried for today's industrial slackness, or of the need for new ones.

Urgent Chore Looms
Abroad we should have a clearer notion of whether the loss of our gold and dollars is nearing an end. If the outbound tide, due to a deficit in the balance of payment—paying out to foreigners more dollars than we get from them—isn't stopped or slowed in the next 10 weeks, the new president will have an urgent chore on his hands.

Even at best the major problem of our trade relations with our friends and our competition with the Red bloc will hang over the new president's head no matter what happens in the next 10 weeks.

The new Congress and the new administration is sure to hear renewed complaints from U.S. manufacturers suffering from inroads of cheaper-priced imports or stymied by foreign restrictions on their trade overseas.

Threat Personified
The recession threat is personified by those already out of work, or on reduced work weeks, or fearful for their jobs. In the consumer field it shows up in increased savings, cautious buying.

In the duller fields of statistics it is found in the slip in the total dollar-value of all goods and services produced in the nation, in the slide in the index of industrial output, in the steel industry's running at about half capacity, in the cutback in business spending for inventory, in the trimming of business plans to spend for new plant and equipment.

7 Reasons why ELECTRIC HOME HEATING is Wonderful!

It's MODERN

It's new! Electric home heating makes your home the home of tomorrow. With no pipes, ducts, radiators or furnace, the heating system becomes almost invisible—a silent, efficient servant.

It's COMFORTABLE

Electric home heating gives you warmth that is just right—never too hot, never too cold. It is even heat with no drafts, no chills, no periodic cooling or overheating. You have wall to wall comfort. You also have precise room-by-room temperature control with a thermostat in each room.

It's HEALTHFUL

Electric home heating, with its uniform warmth throughout a room, eliminates cold-causing drafts. The air is purer because there are no fumes, dust or air-borne irritants.

It's CLEAN

Electric home heating is clean as an electric light. This means less redecorating, less cleaning of walls, draperies, furniture and floor coverings. It saves the housewife time, work and money.

It's DEPENDABLE

Electric home heating is the essence of dependability. Its operation is automatic and there is no fuel to order or store. With no moving parts to wear out, you need no seasonal servicing and have virtually no maintenance expense.

It's EFFICIENT

Electric home heating is truly efficient. You have the heat you want where you want it with individual room control. You also benefit from more efficient use of floor space.

It's PRACTICAL

Electric home heating is practical for all homes that are properly insulated. In almost every instance, electric heat costs less to install and less to maintain. It saves you money in many ways. And with Central Hudson's new low electric residence rate and budget billing plan, anyone can afford electric home heating. Once you live in a home with electric heat, you, too, will say it's wonderful!

Please send me full information on heating my home electrically. I understand that mailing this card does not obligate me in any way.

Vidal's Books Are Now Available at Library

In an effort to fill the numerous requests for the novels of Gore Vidal, the Kingston City Library announced today that nearly all the Barrytown playwright's books are now available at the library.

The novels written by Vidal include Williwaw, In a Yellow Wood, The Season of Comfort, Search for the King, Dark Green, Bright Red, Judgment of Paris, and Messiah.

Vidal, who was born at West Point in 1925, wrote his first novel, Williwaw, at the age of 19. It was praised for its picture life on a steamer during an Aleutian storm.

Two of the books, Search for the King, and Judgment of Paris, are Vidal's retelling of famous legends and historical myths.

The novel, Dark Green, Bright Red, was written after a stay in Guatemala in 1947. The book recounts the story of a revolution coming to a small country in Central America.

Vidal's play, The Best Man, currently running on Broadway, may also be obtained at the library.

The name Canada is believed to have derived from the Indian word "Kanatta" meaning a collection of huts.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. C. E. Partlowe of Miami says she has a light bulb which has been in almost constant service since November, 1939, at least. She found it in an attic trash box in that month and has no idea how long it was used before she ran across it. During much of its service with Mrs. Partlowe, the bulb has burned 24 hours a day in a hallway.

Earth, Stars and Man (23) Suns and Universes

by Don Oakley and John Lane

If planets aren't accidents, caused by colliding stars, but are a routine thing in the universe (as scientists now think), what are the chances that life may have evolved on some as yet unknown planets orbiting distant stars?

For intelligent life, such a star must be stable and about the size of our sun.

When plotted on a graph according to size and brightness, most stars fall in a pattern called the "Main Sequence." The length of time a star stays on the Main Sequence depends on the rate it burns up its fuel. The sun is expected to continue for another 10 billion years. Then it will begin expanding into a red giant, wiping out its planets and all life on them.

A large B-type star gives off heat over a vast distance but is stable for less than a billion years—too short a time to allow intelligent life to evolve. A small M-type star, however, may last for 100 billion years. But its heat is less and the "zone of life" around it in space is narrow and less likely to encompass a planet. Yet there are so many stars that the odds are greatly in favor of life. In the Milky Way alone possibly 20 billion stars qualify.

The greatest enigma confronting astronomers today is the fact that the universe is apparently expanding. That is, all the galaxies are rushing away from one another, somewhat like the spots on an inflating balloon. The farther away from us, the faster they seem to be receding.

This has led some men to believe that the universe may have originated in one terrific explosion of a "cosmic egg" billions of years ago. Opposed to this "big bang" theory is the "steady state" universe. Its supporters theorize that new matter is constantly coming into being to replace that which has passed out of sight.

An answer may be revealed by the most important recent development in astronomy, the radiotelescope, which has extended man's reach into space by billions of light years.

The fact that bodies in outer space give off radio signals was first discovered in 1931, but not until after World War II did radioastronomy come into its own. Today, giant radio "ears" are being built all over the world, some with antennas hundreds of feet in size.

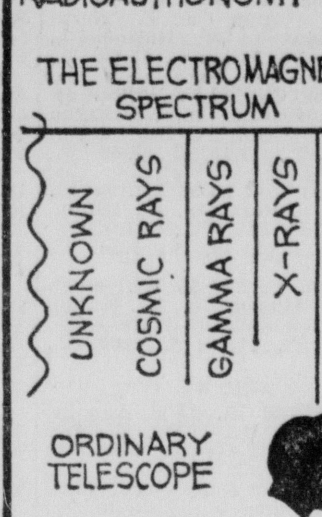

As of now, radioastronomy has added more questions than answers about the universe.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — What this country needs is a new play-as-you-go political party that could make fresh promises to meet everyone's real needs.

The election of 1960 proved that. The most common remark made by the average voter after casting his ballot Tuesday was this: "What difference does it really make to me who wins? I'll still have to work for a living."

Reflects Dissatisfaction

This attitude reflects a deep underlying dissatisfaction in the electorate. They are unhappy with both the Democratic and Republican parties, both of which are a bit out of touch with the people's real desires.

A third party — perhaps to be called the True Welfare of Better World party — might sweep the nation in 1964.

Here are a few suggested planks in such a party's national platform:

HOUSING — Two barbecue pits would be provided for every home, one in the front yard, one in the back yard. No wife would have to stay home every night unless she wanted to. If her husband was too tired to take her out, a government-tested male escort would be at her service one evening a week.

WELFARE — A free guaranteed parking space would be available without charge to every citizen — and located within one-minute walking time of his job.

HEALTH — Federal authorities would expend half a billion dollars annually for the discovery of an all-purpose wonder drug that would cure male baldness, prevent women from wrinkling, prevent the common hangover, and enable anyone to eat as much of anything as he wanted and still keep him from gaining an ounce.

JOBS — No man or woman would be denied the right of working after 65 — or forced to work before he was 65. Pensions would begin at birth.

WAGES — A salary that lasted from payday to payday would be the government goal for all — instead of the present salary which only lasts from payday to the day after payday.

CONDITIONS — Every office and factory would be patterned after modern progressive schools. The hired hands would do their chores in the morning, eat a free government lunch, take a long nap, then spend the afternoon finger painting, playing hop scotch or square dancing. As a sop to management, the boss would be allowed to call the tunes.

YOUTH — All potential teenagers would be removed to government centers at the age of 12, educated there and returned to their parents only after they had lost all interest in rock 'n' roll music.

TAXES — All taxes would be paid by government employees, foreign tourists, and heads of state who came here to make speeches at the United Nations.

A political party with a program like that surely would win hands down in 1964. It might stay in power only a few years — but wouldn't they be years to remember?

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference, conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at Hasbrouck Hall, Modena, Tuesday, Nov. 22 from 1 to 3 p. m. These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for small pox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio.

Thousands hurled stones, tomatoes or whatever was at hand.

The U.S. cultural center was stormed by the demonstrators after several hours of pitched battles in nearby streets. The center was sacked once before, during the turbulent days of 1958, and has been the target of right-wingers in lesser demonstrations on many occasions. Initial reports mentioned no injuries there this time nor was there any word as to what damage was done to the center.

The temper of the European demonstrators mounted toward the boiling point as French President Charles de Gaulle's civilian chief in Algeria, Paul Delouvrier, drove through the Boulevard Pasteur to lay a wreath at the monument for war dead.

The crowd shouted "Resign!" and "De Gaulle to the stake!" Delouvrier laid his wreath without interference, however. The violence came after he drove off. Anger has mounted among Algeria's militant French settlers since De Gaulle, in a broadcast a week ago, promised that the North African territory would no longer be governed by Metropolitan France but would have "its own government, its own institutions, its own laws." The settlers generally interpreted De Gaulle's words to mean an Algerian republic in which they would be overwhelmed by the Moslem Majority.

Paris newspapers reported Thursday De Gaulle may soon proclaim Algeria a republic in a bold move to liquidate the festering six-year-old nationalist rebellion.

Thursday night a crowd of about 1,000 demonstrators, in an Armistice Eve wreath ceremony at the war dead monument, clashed with security forces. Several persons were injured by police clubs.

New Budget Figure $123,424 Is Announced for Township

A revised budget of $123,424.28, a figure $11,000 lower than preliminary total of $134,424.28 announced on Oct. 4, was presented by the Woodstock town board at the public hearing Wednesday night at town hall.

All figures remain unchanged from the preliminary report, except that for the total highway department estimates which were reduced from $99,880.48 to $84,880.48.

In explaining the reduction, Supervisor Abram F. Molyneux told the large number of taxpayers present that there had been a miscalculation in the anticipated increase in general assessments. The first total announced was $178,000, but an $11,000 error was discovered, reducing the amount to $167,000.

The item was computed in the superintendent of highway's budget estimates, and the revision of figures leaves the machinery fund figure at $15,000, instead of the $25,000 in preliminary estimates.

All other items in the budget remain unchanged. The gross figure of $123,424.28 to be raised by taxation, is slightly more than $15,000 over the 1959 budget of $108,000. Total amount for the general fund is $51,636.00 of which $32,491 will be raised by taxes. The highway department appropriation which consumes more than 70 per cent of the budget includes item 1 for general repairs, improvements, etc. at $43,982.40 and $45,898.08 for three other items dealing with constructions, purchases, repairs, storage, salaries, etc.

Prowl Car Item
The budget also includes a $5,000 item for constable salaries and $2,000 for the purchase of a prowling car for police use. The town library will receive a fixed figure of $800 and the usual $3,000 is allotted to the Recreation department.

Other budget items include: $2,350 for the Woodstock lighting district; $11,998.90 for the Woodstock fire district; and $5,000 for the Woodstock water district. Salary items remain unchanged from last year: superintendent of highways, $4,200; town clerk, $4,200; supervisor, $3,800; justices of the peace, $2,400 (combined); councilmen, $960 each.

In reviewing the budget figures, Supervisor Molyneux touched on the matter of increasing voter registration and population and indicated it might be necessary to set up another polling place to alleviate the pressure in District 1. He also favored an increase in the per diem rates for election officials.

Protesting sentiment against the proposed purchase of a so-called Gradall machine resulted in one of the largest budget hearing attendances in several years. Several questions were posed by taxpayers in the audience.

With respect to the Gradall, Supervisor Molyneux gave his assurance that there would be public discussion of the matter at a regular meeting of the town board.

Surplus Announced
In reply to a question posed by William West Jr. it was revealed that the surplus from the highway fund was $11,664.30. A group of taxpayers suggested that estimated budget figures be given wider circulation among the taxpayers before the public hearing. The supervisor said that printing sufficient copies of the budget for all taxpayers would be a costly item and no provision is made for such funds. He said the copies of the budget are on file at the town clerk's office and can be inspected at reasonable hours. The annual financial report of the township is also published annually, he said.

The legality of the purchase of a prowling car by a second class town was raised, but Supervisor Molyneux said he knew of no town law prohibiting it, but the matter would be investigated.

The line of questioning of Superintendent Cashdollar indicated public concern with respect to highway expenditures and there was a strong feeling on the matter of the Gradall. Representatives of the Lake Hill, Willow and Shady Taxpayers Association were out in force and asked several questions on the subject.

The question of communications and wider publicity on budgetary items also was discussed. It was suggested that in cases where matters of great importance are to be discussed that sufficient advance notice be given to the taxpayers.

The regular meeting of the town board will be held Monday at 8 p. m. in town hall.

UNICEF Drive Raises $108 in Woodstock

The 1960 Halloween drive on behalf of the United Nations committee for UNICEF was highly successful, with $108 collected. Mrs. Jack Garside has announced.

The total was collected by school age children through the combined efforts of the Woodstock school, Woodstock P-T-A and the Overlook Methodist Church and all the children who rang doorbells. The amount has been forwarded to the United Nations.

The people of Woodstock are to be commended in this year's response to one of the outstanding programs originating from the United Nations.

Rocky Sidesteps Comment on '64

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller sidestepped a chance to comment on speculation that he might be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964.

Rockefeller, in Albany Thursday to conduct state affairs after a long absence to campaign for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, rejected reporters' requests for a news conference to discuss the presidential election.

Nixon's loss to Sen. John F. Kennedy in the presidential battle has projected Rockefeller's name into speculation as the man to head the GOP ticket four years hence.

Brazil's Rail, Ship Strike Ends

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Brazil's railroad and coastal shipping strike ended today. About a half million government transport workers who struck Tuesday returned to their jobs.

Officials said the walkout was backed by Communists in an apparent test of strength of President Juscelino Kubitschek's administration. Ostensibly the union leaders called on the government transport workers to get them the same level of pay given military personnel. However, a bill aimed at doing just that was already before congress.

ROME (AP) — A total of 220 persons died in mountain climbing accidents in the Alps this year, a survey in the five Alpine nations of Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Germany and France showed today. The toll last year was 281.

Networks Facing TV, Radio Tieup Tuesday Midnight

NEW YORK (AP) — Unionized radio and television performers in New York City have voted to strike at midnight Tuesday unless a new contract is signed with the four major TV and radio networks.

Other locals of the 16,000-member American Federation of Television and Radio Artists in Chicago and Los Angeles and other cities are expected to take similar strike votes within the next day or two.

A spokesman for the New York local said a strike vote Thursday was unanimous among 875 members attending a strike meeting. The local has about 6,000 members.

Negotiations with the networks for a new two-year contract "have been highly unsatisfactory," the spokesman said.

If a strike is called, all live shows and some other programs would be blacked out on the networks. The American Broadcasting Co., Columbia Broadcasting System, National Broadcasting Co. and Mutual (radio) Broadcasting System.

The networks could only substitute old movies, old commercials and other previously filmed programs.

The union wants an average increase of 10 per cent in fees paid to performers, increased payments to performers for replays of commercials and programs, a reduction in the number of days and hours of rehearsal time for performers, and other benefits.

Marilyn to Ask Divorce

NEW YORK (AP) — The marriage of Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller has broken up and the couple will seek a divorce, Earl Wilson said today in a copyrighted story in the New York Post. Wilson quoted Miller, Pulitzer Prize winning playwright, as saying "It's all over—there's no possibility of reconciliation. There'll be an announcement soon."

Newburgh Youths Held Here After Goal Post Damage

Three Newburgh youths were booked on charges dealing with alleged malicious mischief after a reported raid on Dietz Stadium football goal posts Thursday night, and two local teenagers were charged with disorderly conduct after a complaint that they had loitered in the afternoon on MJM School property without permission.

Police said the Newburgh trio: James Leonard Mazzeo, 17, of 6 Tully Lane; Richard Davis, 18, of Grand Avenue; and Harold Michael Seibert, 17, of 71 Ronson Avenue, were among a group allegedly involved in the goal post raid, which was discovered by Officer Kenneth Radel. The others fled and escaped in the darkness.

Levin and Seibert today pleaded guilty before City Judge Aaron E. Klein, but Mazzeo said he planned to obtain counsel. Judge Klein adjourned his case until next Tuesday night and postponed sentencing the others until that time. They are under $25 bail each.

Reports today indicated that the goal posts had been partly dismantled.

Charged with disorderly conduct after reported loitering at the local school were Arthur Lane, 16, of 50 Hunter Street; and Anthony North, 16, of 65 West Union Street. Charges were lodged by Stephen G. Hyatt, MJM principal.

They were paroled in custody of their parents pending appearance today in city court where they were given suspended sentences. It was noted that they were not pupils at the school and were found loitering without permission.

AUXILIARY EXPENSES $464,470

AUXILIARY AGENCIES — The Freeman today publishes the fourth in a series of graphs designed to acquaint the reader with the operation of the Kingston School District (Consolidated). In each article of the series, which is being published in connection with American Education Week, Nov. 6-12, a part of the budget will be discussed in order to show how the taxpayer's money is being spent. The above graph indicates the amount which is being spent during 1960-61 for auxiliary agencies—$464,470, or 9 percent of the total budget. Under auxiliary agencies are salaries of librarians, repair and replacement of school library books, salaries of the school doctors, school nurses and dental hygienists, transportation of pupils, subsidization of school cafeteria, and salaries of school psychologists. Approximately $300,000 is being spent for transportation. As a result of the referendum, adopted by the taxpayers, the board is mandated to transport practically all of the rural children and some city children. The board also furnishes transportation to all physically handicapped children who qualify and for most of the mentally retarded children in special classes. The district employs two psychologists, three dental hygiene teachers, two speech correction teachers, 10 school nurses, two school physicians, four librarians and one school lunch director. In the last article of the series there will be a discussion of capital outlay and operation of plant. The total budget amounts to approximately $5 1/2 million.

Waiting for Gift Land

Supervisor Roger Mabie, Town of Esopus, a member of the Community College Committee, said it is time more information is available on starting a college for Ulster County. He declared that time is wasting and there should be a meeting of the committee in the near future.

Supervisor Abram F. Molyneux, another committee member, said action seems slow on the matter because a gift of land is anticipated which could save the county money.

Supervisor Roy J. Webber, Marlborough, chairman of the college committee, was not present last night.

The meeting adjourned out of respect to a former supervisor, Walter Albrecht of the Seventh Ward, who suffered a fatal heart attack after fighting a fire several weeks ago as a member of Rapid Hose Volunteer Fire Company.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — An Irish patrol ambushed by Baluba tribesmen in Katanga province apparently killed 10 of the attackers and wounded 10 others in a desperate burst of fire before they were overwhelmed. Only two of the 11-man Irish patrol escaped unhurt.

Financial Transactions

(Morgan Davis & Co.)

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined on profit taking early this afternoon as trading simmered down after an active start.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .90 to 214.60 with the industrials down 1.70, the rails down .40 and the utilities down .20.

The AP average had advanced in the seven preceding sessions and Thursday scored its biggest rise since Sept. 24, 1959.

Brokers said selling was to be expected in view of the vigorous rise before and immediately following the election of Sen. John F. Kennedy. At the same time, semi-holiday conditions prevailed in Wall Street due to the observance of Veterans Day.

Steels, autos, coppers, aircrafts, electronics, chemicals, oils, rails and utilities were among the losers.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 3.62 to 608.39.

Corporate bonds were mixed. Bonds houses which account for the majority of transactions in U.S. government bonds were closed for Veterans Day.

This is the big one, with 45 electoral votes. And Kennedy won it big, with a 400,000-vote margin.

Three of the five political writers consulted by the AP think Kennedy's religion was a major factor in sweeping New York.

Leo Egan of the New York Times put it this way: "A great many Catholics who have been voting Republican apparently switched to Sen. Kennedy this time in the hope of electing a Catholic president for the first time in this nation's history."

Poor economic conditions, Egan added, hurt Nixon in some areas.

Jack Medoff of the Buffalo Evening News agreed, saying: "There are only two logical conditions why so many Republicans voted for Kennedy and then went back to their own party on the voting machines:

"1. Buffalo is predominantly Catholic, an estimated 65 per cent.

"2. Even if it is said in hush-hush tones, the Buffalo area is very much depressed."

And Arvis Chalmers of the Albany Knickerbocker News:

"1. Kennedy's religion.

"2. Support of ethnic groups whose backing had helped achieve New Deal victories of the 1930s and 40s.

"3. A better-than-usual vote in economically depressed areas."

Tim O'Hara of the New York Herald Tribune was impressed with the way Kennedy ran his campaign.

"The Kennedy personal planning was astounding in its depth. The Kennedy personal machine kept up a steady barrage on the voters by bringing in distinguished speakers almost daily. Republicans complained even during the campaign that their man failed to do this."

And Dick Lee of the New York Daily News said: "Nixon's unpopularity with the New York voters, plus the economic conditions throughout the state and a slight touch of Mr. Rockefeller's high taxes, were responsible for the shift."

MINNESOTA

When Minnesota's 11 electoral votes went to Kennedy, at noon Wednesday, he was home a winner.

Sidney Goldfish, who directs the Minneapolis Tribune's poll, bases his analysis on his pre-election samplings.

Goldfish found that in Minnesota at least, Kennedy had a stronger appeal for young voters and for women than Adlai Stevenson had in 1956. And Kennedy outdrew Stevenson among college-educated persons, 33 per cent to 21 per cent, the poll indicated.

The Duluth Herald said editorially poor economic conditions in northern Minnesota, including the famous Iron Range, helped Kennedy.

And Managing Editor Franklin Rogers of the Mankato Free Press comes up with what could be the greatest irony of the 1960 campaign.

In West Virginia's primaries Kennedy ran over Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, (D-Minn.), so convincingly Humphrey dropped out of the race completely.

Yet Rogers says, "Kennedy owes his Minnesota victory to the popularity of Sen. Humphrey, who led his ticket by a wide margin. If Humphrey had not been on the ticket, it's doubtful if Kennedy would have carried Minnesota."

PENNSYLVANIA

The big news here, 32 electoral votes, is the Philadelphia story. Or in the words of James R. Doran, editor of the Harrisburg Patriot-News:

"Sorting out causes for Nixon's defeat in Pennsylvania: (1) The astounding 326,407 Democratic plurality piled up by Rep. William J. Green's Philadelphia city machine. (2) The Republican 200,000 deficit in 10 distressed areas counties. And (3) The 'intimate' issue."

"The complete collapse of the Philadelphia Republican organization," Joseph Miller of the Philadelphia Inquirer says, "was the chief factor contributing to the outcome in Pennsylvania."

Adrian Lee of the Philadelphia Bulletin says unemployment and religion were the big factors in Pennsylvania. And on religion, Lee believes Kennedy was a big winner.

Republican Catholics flocked to Kennedy, but "in most of the so-called Bible belt counties, the anti-Catholic feeling didn't generate much bigger majorities than President Eisenhower got in 1956."

And the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette & Sun-Telegraph said in its post-election analysis: "The overriding factor in Pennsylvania undoubtedly was economic. There are pockets of serious unemployment and under-employment."

Texas wandered off the Democratic reservation in 1952 and 1956 — and many believed it would give its 24 electoral votes to Nixon, too.

And when you wonder why it went to Kennedy you get three different reasons from three observers.

Sam Kinch of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram thinks personality played a major role: "Nixon was never able to match the popularity of Eisenhower. When he let himself get drawn into that debate series, he came off second best."

Raymond Brooks of the Austin American-Statesman credits Lyndon B. Johnson with getting the Democrats to close ranks and attack the Republicans.

"He had bridged most of the old Democratic family conflicts, drawing into teamwork many who had spent the last eight years fighting each other."

And Bob Hollingsworth of the Dallas Times Herald:

"The religious issue cut both ways for Kennedy. Protestant rural areas chose to remain Democratic rather than vote against a Roman Catholic. And Kennedy won areas where Catholic Latin Americans are concentrated, El Paso, San Antonio and South Texas to the Lower Rio Grande Valley."

"Much of this went to Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956."

ILLINOIS

Kennedy won Illinois' 27 votes — by a whisker.

"The religious issue," John Dreiske of the Chicago Sun-Times said, "proved to be a big factor in saving Kennedy in Illinois."

Dreiske thinks many Catholics who normally vote Republican went for Kennedy. And he thinks the Negro vote in Chicago was a big item in helping Kennedy carry the state.

Chicago's American said editorially: "The Democratic sweep in Cook County (Chicago) proved again the enormous influence wielded by Mayor (Richard J.) Daley and the well oiled efficiency of his organization."

"Elsewhere in the state the trend was toward splitting tickets. In Chicago the trend was countered by the massive straight ticket vote marshaled by the disciplined Democrats."

MICHIGAN

Kennedy was supposed to take this state's 20 electoral votes fairly easily. It wasn't easy, but he won them.

Here's William C. Kulesa, Lansing bureau chief for the Booth Newspapers, Inc., and his view of what happened:

"Kennedy took Michigan because of a superior Democratic-AFL-CIO political machine and his attraction to women voters. He fired up party workers much more than Stevenson did in 1952 and 1956, and was able to overcome the issue of religion which did hurt him some in outstate Michigan."

Ray Courage, who handles politics for the Detroit Free Press, says:

"The most significant factor in Michigan was the results seem to indicate that this state definitely is in the Democratic column now, chiefly from population increases."

CALIFORNIA

With its 32 electoral votes, this was a major and unpredictable battle. Kennedy was leading, but the margin was so close Republicans still hope enough Nixon votes will be found to pull this, his home state, back into his column.

Earl C. Behrens, the veteran political editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, thinks religion was important, and he thinks minority groups, especially Negroes and the Mexican-Americans in Los Angeles, swung from Eisenhower to Kennedy.

Carl Greenberg, the political editor of the Los Angeles Examiner, said:

"Primarily, I believe the TV debates had tremendous impact. They utterly destroyed an earlier image of Kennedy as an immature young man."

"Additionally, I'm inclined to believe the management of the Nixon campaign somehow got off the track."

COLORADO

Here Republican hustle helped swing its six electoral votes to Nixon.

Bert Hanna of the Denver Post says that at a time when "the Democratic organization on the state level was demoralized, there was a 'vastly improved and militant Republican organization."

"The Rocky Mountain News said editorially that 'concern for the sound dollar and a firm foreign policy' influenced Colorado voters, and 'the much discussed 'farm revolt' just wasn't there."

WASHINGTON

Before the election, the pitch was that Democratic Gov. Albert D. Rosellini was in trouble and was clutching desperately for Kennedy's coattails.

Yet Rosellini was re-elected. Kennedy lost Washington's nine electoral votes.

Sub Nelson of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer and Ross Cunningham of the Seattle Times agree that this is partly due to Washington's independent, unpredictable voters, plus a Kennedy organization run by amateurs and a Nixon organization staffed by professionals.

The vote is so close it could go either way, and unofficially has switched already from Nixon to Kennedy and back to Nixon.

And what happened out there? William H. Ewing, editor of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin:

"The international Longshoremen and Warehousemen Union support of Nixon in the islands did have some effect as shown by the returns from the outside islands, heavily for Nixon."

Adam A. Smyser, managing editor of the Star-Bulletin, said: "The election once again proved that Hawaii is a middle-of-the-road state."

May Discolor Water

Repair work Sunday on a pressure regulating valve could cause discoloration of water in the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh wards, a water department announcement said today. If the water is rolled, it was noted however, it will be for only a short period. The work was scheduled for Sunday to reduce inconvenience to consumers. Normal service will be restored "as quickly as possible."

LORTON, Va. (AP) — Bruce Flincham, a Boy Scout counselor, climbed a 30-foot tree to knock loose a broken line.

If it would be tough getting back to the ground, Flincham's rescuers called the Lorton Rescue Squad. Two engines and a dozen firemen responded. They lowered Flincham in a rope sling.

Listing Requirements Vary for Two Exchanges

Q "Please explain the difference between the New York and American Stock Exchanges? Is the American Exchange the old 'curb' market?" — J. C.

A) The main differences between the two big exchanges consist in age, size, prestige, and listing requirements.

The New York Stock Exchange, often referred to as the Big Board, is a venerable institution and is the largest organized securities market in the United States. Listing requirements are relatively strict.

To be accepted, a firm must have tangible assets above $8 million and must have demonstrated annual earning power above $1 million. It must have at least 400,000 shares outstanding (exclusive of those closely held) among not less than 1,500 stockholders. Most major firms are on the Big Board. Listing there is a privilege eagerly sought after and is always granted, and there is a considerable amount of prestige attached to it.

The American Exchange is younger and smaller. It started out as the New York Curb, and all old-timers still refer to it as "the Curb." Listing requirements are much less stringent, so that a great many smaller and lesser known companies are traded there, sometimes as a prelude to going on the Big Board. There are also a number of well-known, long established corporations that are entirely satisfied with their American Exchange listing.

Q "I would like to invest in some common stocks offering relatively high yield and paying dividends consistently over a period of years. Can you suggest some?" — M. M.

A) Yes, I can. I will mention six established situations, each of which has paid dividends for at least the last 30 years. Boston Edison (dividends since 1890) which yielded 4.8 per cent recently; Duquesne Light (1916), yielding 4.9 per cent; New England Tel. & Tel. (1886), yielding 4.7 per cent; International Shoe (1913), yielding 5.4 per cent; Sunshine Biscuit (1927), yielding 4.5 per cent; and Pacific Lighting (1909), yielding 4.9 per cent.

Campaign Ideas Reviewed

Big Defense Kennedy's Foreign Policy Plan

Editor's Note — International problems received wide attention in the presidential campaign. As the new president, John F. Kennedy must deal with these problems. What are his ideas? What is he likely to do? AP News Analyst James Marlow discusses these matters in this second of three special articles on what lies ahead.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I don't know what the '60s will bring except I think they will bring hard times in the international sphere."

That was Sen. John F. Kennedy talking during the presidential campaign. Now that he's president-elect, how will he cope with the international future?

He put it this way: "In my judgment we should follow the advice of Theodore Roosevelt; be strong, maintain a strong position, but also speak softly."

As a result of this thinking his campaign promises make big defense an essential part of his foreign policy.

Some of His Tasks
Here are just a few of the tasks lying ahead for him:

Keeping peace in the Middle East; trying to keep communism out of Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America; strengthening this country's alliances; stiff-arming the Russians on Berlin; and, while making another stab at disarmament, building a terrible arsenal of American weapons.

His most immediately spectacular problem for some time is likely to be Soviet Premier Khrushchev, who insulted President Eisenhower and said he'd try for a summit meeting with his successor.

Foggy on K Meeting
Kennedy has been a little foggy on the subject of meeting Khrushchev. At one point in the campaign, he said that before any summit with the Russian this country must build its strength, military and economic.

At another time the only preliminary he laid down — before meeting Khrushchev — was a meeting of the foreign ministers to determine whether anything might come of a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting.

Kennedy has been very definite about his intention of stepping up American defenses with plans that range from programs on missiles to shaking up and streamlining the slow-moving Pentagon.

And, while this hurry-up defense building was taking place, Kennedy would be planning for disarmament just in case there was agreement with the Russian on it.

Here are some of the other things he said he thought about foreign affairs:

West Berlin — The Communists want to take it over. This country is committed to keeping it free.

Kennedy said this country would die East — He made it clear this country should act "promptly and decisively" against any Middle East nation which attacks its neighbors.

He said the president should try to get Jews and Arabs into conference to solve their problems and promised to back up their efforts with economic and technical help.

Africa — Here he spoke of a

"bold and imaginative new program for the development of Africa." He suggested that this country, along with other nations able to pay the bill, should provide education, food and development capital for Africa by setting up an international fund.

To Rely on U.N.
Kennedy would put reliance on the United Nations in trying to help the Africans.

Latin America — During the campaign Kennedy emphasized the need for a "new attitude and a new approach" to Latin America where Vice President Richard M. Nixon was stoned and there is considerable sympathy for Fidel Castro's anti-United States revolution in Cuba.

Cuba — Kennedy was a little vague on how he'd handle Castro, particularly after pulling a boner at one time in the campaign by suggesting anti-Castro people inside Cuba should be encouraged to act against him.

This would be internal intervention by the United States and therefore a violation of a treaty this country has with Latin American nations pledging all signers not to barge into a neighbor's internal affairs.

But Kennedy suggested: This country must immediately begin a major broadcast program for Cuba; Castro must be told he can not deny this country compensation for the American property he seized; the United States must let Khrushchev, a Castro supporter, know it will permit no expansion of his foothold in this hemisphere.

Would Boost Sanctions
The United States, Kennedy said, should seek collective action against "communism in the Caribbean" by working with this country's European allies and the Organization of American States.

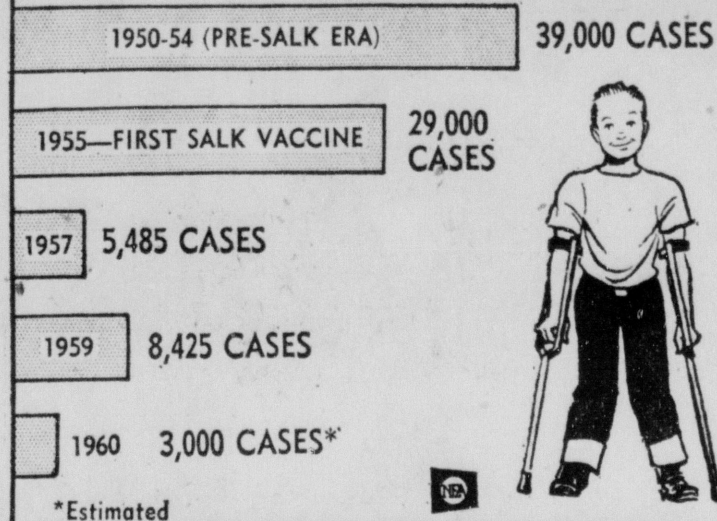

And Kennedy wants economic sanctions against Castro increased.

Foreign Aid — Kennedy would revise this country's foreign aid program. He proposed a "new joint effort by all the weather nations to establish funds of long-term credit for India and each of the under-developed nations."

All this is a big order for a new president to impose on himself. While he was making all these proposals he was also promising a multitude of new programs for America at home.

A Bible printed in 1810 is known as the "Ears to Ear Bible" because it quotes Matthew 13:43 as "Who hath ears to hear, let him hear."

DECREASE IN POLIO CASES

ON THE RUN — Newschart, above, shows average number of cases annually in pre-Salk polio vaccine era and how vaccine's use dramatically cut polio's ravages. Increase of cases in 1959 is blamed on large sections of population failing to avail themselves of inoculation benefits. The Public Health Service urges the widest use of Salk vaccine until the new oral vaccine is available in quantity that's sufficient for all. Source: National Office of Vital Statistics.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I just found a "Skillyput" item given to me by the late Miss Bell Short, photographer of The Strand of years back. Miss Short is well remembered by folks who used to pass her show-window on The Strand, and visit her studio on the top floor of the building. The Strand has changed since those days.

The item I have was written by Sam Van Aken, marine designer. No doubt it was written many years ago. It reads in part: "While working on this information from Mrs. Edwin H. Sawyer of Santa Barbara, Calif. Mrs. Sawyer is the daughter of the late Captain Absalom L. Anderson of Mary Powell fame."

Mr. Van Aken recalls the folks he used to meet on the old Skillyput, "among them were Captain Absalom L. Anderson, Dr. Josiah Hasbrouck, Dr. Edwin MacKenzie, Dr. Richard Elting, Morgan Everson, a famous marine builder of Sleighs-burgh, the Sleighs, founders of the ferry system between Port Ewen and Rondout. He also mentions the Schryvers, Freers, Terpenings and Van Aken, all prominent in the business and social life of Port Ewen of that period."

The marine designer further writes "Before the days of the Riverside, or Skillyput, transportation across the Rondout Creek was accomplished by means of a scow large enough to carry a team of horses and a person. This scow was no doubt propelled with one oar. It was owned and operated by one, John P. Sleigh. A horn was hung on a post on the Rondout side of the creek and when passage was desired to Sleighs-burgh the horn was blown and one of Sleigh's farm hands would "scull" over and return with the passenger."

He further writes: "This method of transportation became so popular that one Elijah Elmore Marsh of Esopus was hired to operate the scow and

Solon Bids Expansion Of Griffis Operation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Alexander Pirnie, R-N.Y., wants the Defense Department to expand operations at Griffis Air Force Base in Rome, N.Y.

Pirnie, who met Thursday with Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr., said he told Gates the manpower and any additional space the Air Force might need for expansion are available in the Rome area.

Griffis now has 7,500 civilian employees and 3,500 personnel.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., and Theodore Crotius, administrative assistant to Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., also attended the meeting.

Committee Named To Make Urban Renewal Simpler

NEW YORK (AP) — Ways to simplify and strengthen the state's urban renewal assistance program will be explored by a committee appointed by State Housing Commissioner James William Gaynor.

Gaynor said in naming the committee: "With the enthusiastic and broad-scale adoption of the urban renewal program throughout the state, the need for certain understandable revisions in basic law have become apparent."

The committee will study ways to broaden the state aid to local communities. The state pays half a community's share of urban renewal costs.

The advisory committee, named Thursday, will be headed by Asst. Housing Commissioner David L. Rosen.

Other members are: John A. Dale, Rochester; William F. Denne, Buffalo; Addison Mallory, Albany; Ray B. Martin, Utica; George E. McCullough, Syracuse; Robert Sentman, Greenburgh; Jack A. Valada, Binghamton; and Donald A. Walsh, Albany. Mallory is executive director of the State Conference of Mayors and Walsh is its counsel. The others appointed are urban renewal officials in their communities.

State's Business Activity Set New September Record

ALBANY — Business activity in New York State, continuing at high level, set a new record for September, the State Department of Commerce reported today.

The State's preliminary index of business activity, seasonally adjusted, stood at 140 (1947-49 equals 100), up one point from August and the highest September on record. While factory output dipped two points from the previous month, most other components of the index showed more than seasonal gains. The September index was four points above the September 1959 level.

Showed Greatest Rise

Non-farm employment in the state showed the greatest August-to-September rise since 1952. There were 6,288,000 non-farm workers in September — 77,000 more than in August and 88,000 more than in September 1959. Sizeable gains over August were reported in manufacturing, retail trade and particularly in government, where employment rose seasonally with school openings.

The state's 1,934,000 manufacturing workers in September represented an increase of 22,000 over August but a decrease of 11,000 from the September 1959 total. The work force of durable-goods industries rose seasonally from August and showed a gain to 10,000 jobs over September 1959. Employment in nondurable-goods also rose, but at less than the usual August to September rate.

In the week ended October 28, the state had 82,000 claimants for unemployment benefits. This was an increase of 9,000 over the total four weeks earlier and a decrease of 9,500 from the like week in 1959, which was affected by the national steel strike. Over the month, the unemployment rolls dropped by 2,500 in New York City, but increased 11,500 in the rest of the state.

Holds Level

Construction in the state continued to hold above year-ago levels, reflecting greater activity than the national construction picture. Strength in non-residential construction and public works more than compensated for decreased residential building.

Steel mills in the Buffalo District operated at 61 per cent of steel ingot capacity in the week ended October 30, a three per cent gain in output over five weeks earlier. Nationally, steel production declined slightly over the month, with output at 53 per cent of capacity at the end of October.

McSpirit-Tomaszewski Double Ring Nuptials Performed at Montgomery Church Nov. 5th

Miss Genevieve Stephanie Tomaszewski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Casimir Tomaszewski of RD 2, Middletown, and Raymond J. McSpirit, son of Mrs. Jane McSpirit of 27 Washington Avenue, were united in marriage 11 a. m. Saturday, Nov. 5, at St. Mary's Church, Montgomery.

The Rev. Benjamin Roth officiated at the double ring ceremony and offered the nuptial Mass.

Mrs. Ralph Hanlon of Montgomery was organist. Janis Jamieson, soloist, sang Ave Maria.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a princess gown of pure silk peau de soie styled with a chapel train. Panels of reemboirered imported rose point lace trimmed with seed pearls adorned the gown front and each side. The scoop neckline and the pleated bustle effect were lace trimmed. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a lace crown trimmed with seed pearls and she carried an orchid surrounded with white chrysanthemums arranged in a cascade.

Miss Teresa Tomaszewski was maid of honor for her sister in a ballerina length gown of gold tissue taffeta with draped bell shaped skirt. She carried a cascade of bronze chrysanthemums and oak leaves.

Other attendants were Miss Dorothy Tomaszewski of Middletown, sister of the bride; Mrs. Doris Leonard, Plass Road, Pleasant Valley; Mrs. Viola Moxham, 27 John Street and Miss Agnes Wilke, 76 Stephan Street.

They were gowned in attire similar to the honor attendant's in cherry red and blue and carried cascade arrangements of gold chrysanthemums and oak leaves.

The flower girls, both cousins of the bride, were the Misses Mary Ann and Barbara Ann Tomaszewski of New Hampton. They wore blue nylon over taffeta ruffled floor length gowns and carried baskets of chrysanthemums.

John McSpirit of Kingston was best man for his brother. Ushers were Edward McSpirit of 76 Cedar Street, William Markle of 149 Fair Street, Thomas Cragan of 27 Washington Avenue and John Peters of 115 Wrentham Street.

Mrs. Tomaszewski chose a brocaded chiffon dress of royal blue with matching hat for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a wine crepe dress with satin trim and matching hat.

A reception for 180 guests followed at Spruce Lodge, Coldenham.

For a wedding trip to Canada, the former Miss Tomaszewski chose a pean brown sheath dress with brown and white accessories. Upon their return the couple will reside at 14 Clifton Avenue, this city.

The bride is a graduate of Montgomery High School and attended Orange County Community College, Middletown. Both Mr. and Mrs. McSpirit are employed at IBM, Kingston.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Kingston High School and served with the U. S. Marine Corps.

Jacqueline Kennedy Recommends Vacation For President-Elect; Happy About Results

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—The tension of the all-night vote counting.

Mrs. Kennedy said Thursday she thought her husband should have a month's rest in order to properly carry on his duties as president. She observed colorfully: "You can't race a car endlessly without taking it into the shop."

But her husband had allotted himself just 10 to 14 days, despite the advice of his wife, America's first lady-elect, who views her main role as "taking care of the president."

She said: "I've every confidence that my husband would be most magnificent" in his presidential job "and I assume I won't fail him in any way."

"I really don't think of myself as first lady—but of Jack as president," she told 10 reporters at her first news conference in her new role.

She said she was proud and happy of Kennedy's success over what had seemed insurmountable odds.

Was she happy for herself? "Yes," she said, adding: "I think a wife's happiness does come when her husband is happy."

That time Mrs. Kennedy had a miscarriage, blamed on the tension and excitement of the convention events.

But now, she was taking things as easily as she could, staying out of most of the election campaign—even going to bed at 11 p.m. on election night—because "I knew I couldn't get involved in

Junior League Library Mobile Takes Books And Exhibits to Children in Outlying Area

In March 1958, the Children's Room of the Kingston City Library opened its doors through the combined efforts of the Library Board of Trustees, the Junior League of Kingston and several other community organizations. At that time the Junior League donated $3,000 to the library to be used in establishing the service.

Since the opening of the Children's Room, the League has been in charge of planning and assisting with programs for the children. There is a pre-school Story Hour as well as a Story Hour for older children which is presented weekly with League girls often doing the narrating.

In addition to stories, there have been puppet shows, guest speakers and plays put on for the children through the efforts of the Junior League.

The Children's Room has been a continuing success since its beginning and during July 1960 a record of 2,435 books were borrowed in a single month. This project has been most gratifying and demonstrates the interest the young people have in reading just for pleasure during the summer months.

The League continues to support the library program not only by putting in volunteer hours assisting the librarian in planning activities, cataloging new books, mending old books, but also by donating books.

Since the Kingston City Library project has been so successful it was decided to expand this community project. This fall, the Junior League Library Committee acquired a horse trailer to serve as a traveling library, museum and puppet theatre. This trailer will make monthly visits to Hurley, Kingston, Saugerties, Stone Ridge and the Town of Ulster with books and displays. During the month of October the reptile display was received with great enthusiasm by the children in the area.

It is the hope of the Junior League that this Mobile Library is just the beginning of a new and better library service to our community.

The convention program will feature a new play, Spotlight on the Girls, written especially for the occasion by TV-radio writer Marc Siegel and directed by the noted director, Frank Papp. The play will highlight the Mathilde Schechter Residence Hall, a proposed dormitory for girl students at the schools of the Jewish Theological Seminary. The National Women's League is spearheading the current fund drive for the Residence Hall.

Women's League headquarters are at the Jewish Theological Seminary, 3080 Broadway, New York City.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

The New York Herald-Tribune gave a Hobie Armstrong thrust against Princeton a six-panel photographic spread in its Monday issue. But for an alert official, Hobie might have gone all the way on a long gainer. As it was, he picked up nine yards before slipping out of bounds on one leg. He quickly turned inside and was in the clear when the official called him back.

Many of Armstrong's local rooters picked up a snide reference to "No-Hands Armstrong" in the Daily News play by play summation. Prior to Hobie's fumble on the Princeton 8, he had turned in some brilliant running in a 79 yard advance.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Gerry McDonough has seen little action at the University of Connecticut. Latest Uconn statistics indicate he has carried the ball once for a 2-yard gain and completed one pass in three attempts for a net gain of 16 yards. . . . Kim Chapin, 17-year-old high school senior of Bay City, Michigan, is the 1960 winner of the TRA-Grantland Rice Memorial Scholarship, which is awarded annually to the nation's most promising young sportswriter. The scholarship worth almost $10,000 over the four years of college is financed by the Thoroughbred Racing Association, national membership organization of race tracks. It pays all necessary expenses toward a B.A. degree at Vanderbilt University, alma mater of the late dean of American sportswriters, and also provides summer jobs in which the student learns the sport of horse racing. First winner of the scholarship five years ago was Charles (Chuck) Nord, assistant in our sports department when he applied for the scholarship. . . . Syracuse University is stumbling but halfback Ernie Davis is keeping his All-America hopes alive. Against Army, Davis blasted 110 yards on just 11 carries against a fired-up Army team to hike his season's rushing total to 636 yards in seven games. The 6-2, 205-pound junior from Elmira has carried the ball 84 times for an average gain of 7.6 yards per try this season.

Of Men and Mice:

Michael W. Cowley can count on seeing plenty of action with this season's Rochester Institute of Technology basketball squad, according to cage coach Lou Alexander. Cowley, son of William M. Cowley of Saugerties, is a sophomore in RIT's School of Business Administration. A 1959 graduate of Saugerties High, Cowley played on the school's football, basketball and baseball teams. A tough, tight docket faces the Tigers this season, including tilts with quintets from Hartwick College, Detroit Tech, Baldwin-Wallace, Alfred University and Clarkson College. The Blue and Gray open their season on Dec. 1 meeting MacMaster University at Rochester. . . . Dr. John Bateman, head football coach at Rutgers University, addresses the annual Section 9 Athletic Council dinner on December 7 at Hotel Newburgh. . . . Bateman, who coached for a year at Middletown High before going to Columbia, has enjoyed conspicuous success with the Scarlet. One of his charges is Mary Engel, former KHS All-DUSO lineman. . . . Army makes one of its rare basketball appearances in the Garden, launching the collegiate season against St. John's on Dec. 3. In the other section of the tripeheader starting at 6 p. m., Manhattan plays Temple and NYU takes on Utah.

Sims at Van Cortland:

Jimmy Sims, former KHS cross country star, will appear with the Cornell Frosh in the IC 4-A competition Monday at Van Cortland Park in New York. . . . Harlem Globetrotters, probably the second team, visit the Troy Army next Wednesday to take on their stooges, the Washington Generals, in a game scheduled at 8 p. m. In one of their more recent appearances the Trotters gave a special show before Pope John XXIII at his summer home and delighted the Pontiff with their performance. . . . Billy Short is one of 19 pitchers on the New York Yankees' winter baseball roster. He will go to spring training at St. Petersburg, Fla., in an attempt to nail down a starting assignment with the 1961 varsity. Last year he pitched 47 innings to post a 3-5 record and 4.79 earned run average for the Yanks. Sent to Richmond in midseason to work an ailing arm into shape, Bill won six, lost two and had a 2.50 ERA mark. Short pitched in tough luck in tough ball games in the heat of a pennant race and the Yankees just couldn't buy a run for him. They showered dozens on Jim Coates who stayed on and distinguished himself by throwing one of the celebrated gopher balls in that hectic World Series windup.

Sawyers, Rondout Seeking to Close Unbeaten Seasons

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

While hoping that Newburgh Free Academy can derail the Poughkeepsie High championship express, Kingston will attempt to keep its hopes of tying for the DUSO grid title alive Saturday with a contest at Middletown against the dangerous Middies.

Locally, there are several interesting attractions as the scholastic season comes to a close. Only the traditional Thanksgiving Day attractions remain after the firing ends tomorrow.

Onteora was scheduled to end this afternoon by hosting weak Liberty Central at Boiceville. The visitors have not won in six starts while Onteora has won three, lost one and tied a pair.

Point happy Saugerties has a tough one against visiting Beacon tomorrow. The Sawyers have clinched the DCSL crown but are not setting their sights on an unbeaten season. Beacon is a big stumbling block.

The Southern Dutchess county club had both Newburgh and Poughkeepsie beat but it ran out of gas in the second half. It has speed to match the Sawyers in the backfield and has everything to gain and nothing to lose with a victory.

Good Effort Needed

Saugerties has scored 223 points in seven starts and is a slight favorite to win this one. However, the team has to give an all-out effort.

Rondout Valley, another unbeaten but twice tied club, meets Cornwall-on-Hudson, a team which conquered Onteora early in the season. The Ganders slugged weak Liberty last week but this game is another story. It was slated to be played at the Marlborough school gridiron this afternoon.

Maris, Daughter To Lose Tonsils

RAYTOWN, Mo. (AP)—Three-year-old Susan Maris will have company when she has her tonsils removed next month.

Going through the same ordeal will be her daddy, Roger Maris, New York Yankee outfielder who earlier this week was named the most valuable player in the American League for 1960.

Maris has been troubled by a sore throat for the last several months and Thursday his physician recommended surgery.

"The doctor told me the only difference was she'd be over it in about three days and it might take me three weeks," The Yankee slugger said.

Football Briefs

BOSTON (AP)—Sammy Baugh's cliff-hanging New York Titans, beaten in their last three, take on hopeful Boston tonight in a battle for second place in Eastern Division of the American Football League.

New York holds the No. 2 spot with a 4-5 record while Boston is 3-5. Neither has much hope of catching front-running Houston, 6-2.

The Titans seem to specialize in last quarter thrillers. Of the 21 points scored against them, 77 have come in the last quarter. And in their nine games, six of them have been decided in the last four minutes.

One of those was Boston's 28-21 victory over New York earlier this season. Chuck Shonta scooped up a New York fumble and ran 20 yards for a touchdown on the last play of the game.

The game is the only Friday action in the league. Sunday games have Houston at Los Angeles, Buffalo at Oakland and Denver at Dallas.

Bye Bye Byrd Wins 2-Length Victory

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Bye Bye Byrd, the greatest money-winning harness horse of all-time scored a two-length victory Thursday night in the $58,700 Good Time free-for-all, pace at Yonkers Raceway.

The 5-year-old bay horse, driven by Clint Hodgins, covered the 1 1/2 miles in 3:07.25. The win, worth $23,350, was Bye Bye Byrd's 11th in 25 seasonal starts and boosted his 1960 earnings to $187,612. He now has lifetime earnings of $1,000,000.

Many Candidates in Running For All-American Backfield

NEW YORK (AP)—The race for honors in the 1960 All-America backfield is wide open.

Although there are plenty of sound, capable candidates, as of now, there are no real standouts.

What happens over the next three Saturdays will go far in determining the men AP's eight regional boards, each representing an NCAA district, will recommend for the first team.

Here are some of the more promising candidates:

Jake Gibbs, Mississippi quarterback; Tom Matte, quarterback, and Bob Ferguson, fullback, both of Ohio State; Roman Gabriel, North Carolina State quarterback; Bill Kärmer, UCLA tailback; Joe Bellino, Navy halfback; Ronnie

FRACTURED BLOCKS

Minnesota Favored to Defeat Purdue in Top Game Saturday

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Can Minnesota keep its ranking as the nation's No. 1 team and gain a share of the Big Ten title? Will Washington wind up defending its Rose Bowl and Big Five crown?

These, and a few more important questions regarding conference titles and the likes, are going to be answered before the weekend is over as the 1960 college football season hits the crucial stretch-run stage.

The Golden Gophers, atop the football world for the first time in two decades, play Purdue Saturday and a victory will give them at least a tie in the Big Ten race. Minnesota 7-0, top ranked in The Associated Press weekly poll, needs only to beat Wisconsin next Saturday to be king.

Washington, 7-1 and ranked sixth, must beat California 1-61 for the Big Five title and a ticket to the Rose Bowl.

Yale 7-0 plays Princeton for what will probably be the Ivy title. Both are 5-0 in league play and are favored in season windups next week against league foes.

Tonight, Virginia Tech, still in the running for the Southern Conference title, plays George Washington. Wichita is at Drake and Richmond at Furman in other games tonight.

Missouri, second ranked with an 8-0 mark, and 5-0 atop the Big Eight, plays Oklahoma 2-41, whom it hasn't beaten since 1945.

Third-ranked Ohio State 6-1 and Iowa No. 5, which is 6-1 play to see who will have a chance to snatch the Big Ten title should Minnesota falter.

Duke, ranked seventh with a 6-1 mark after upsetting previously unbeaten Navy last week, can clinch a tie for the Atlantic Coast Conference title with a victory over Wake Forest 2-5. Second place North Carolina State, 4-1, in ACC play compared to Duke's 4-0, is out of the conference against Arizona State.

The Middies 7-1, ranked eighth play winless 0-6 Virginia. Arkansas No. 9 must beat winless Southern Methodist 0-61 to stay atop the Southwest Conference.

Krieger, Rules Interpreter, Dies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—E. C. (Irish) Krieger, nationally prominent as an interpreter of football rules, died Thursday.

He was 64. Krieger, a Big Ten football and basketball official for 25 years, died of a heart attack in his home.

Many Candidates in Running For All-American Backfield

NEW YORK (AP)—The race for honors in the 1960 All-America backfield is wide open.

Although there are plenty of sound, capable candidates, as of now, there are no real standouts.

What happens over the next three Saturdays will go far in determining the men AP's eight regional boards, each representing an NCAA district, will recommend for the first team.

Here are some of the more promising candidates:

Jake Gibbs, Mississippi quarterback; Tom Matte, quarterback, and Bob Ferguson, fullback, both of Ohio State; Roman Gabriel, North Carolina State quarterback; Bill Kärmer, UCLA tailback; Joe Bellino, Navy halfback; Ronnie

Hobie Is Rushing Boss for Harvard With 302 Yards

Hobie Armstrong continues to lead the Harvard rushing leaders. The sophomore halfback from Kingston has gained 302 yards in 63 attempts for an average of 4.8 a carry, according to latest figures.

Trailing Armstrong is senior Bruce MacIntyre with 47 tries and 236 yards gained for an average of 5.0 a try.

Harvard will attempt to clinch a first division berth in the Ivy League race with a battle against Brown this week. The Crimson rules a slight favorite to beat the Bruins for the first time since 1953 and Armstrong is one of the reasons why.

Orange, Colgate Have Own Aims In Saturday Tilt

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The Syracuse and Colgate football teams, foes Saturday, each have a desire—the Orange to end a two-game losing streak, the Red Raiders to hold down the score in an expected Syracuse victory.

While the traditional rivals meet for the 61st time, injury-riddled Cornell clashes with favored Dartmouth at Ithaca.

Approximately 30,000 fans are expected to watch the Syracuse-Colgate game at Archbold Stadium in Syracuse.

Syracuse, a 71-0 victor over Colgate a year ago, will seek its 10th in a row over the Red Raiders.

Colgate's big headache is expected to be Syracuse's Ernie Davis, an All-American candidate who has gained 636 yards in seven games this season for an average of 7.6 yards per carry.

Until beaten by Pittsburgh and Army, Syracuse had won 16 consecutive games, including 5 this season.

Dartmouth, 3 and 5 in Ivy League competition, figured to make Cornell its fourth league victim. The Big Red has dropped four league games since it overcame Harvard.

The meeting of the Big Red and the Indians will be their 44th. Each team has won 21 times. One game ended in a tie.

SHOTGUN GAUGES FOR BEGINNERS

DOUBLE NUMBER OF SHOT SHOWN WITH PENCIL POINT

A .410 GAUGE SHOTGUN HAS THE LEAST RECOIL AND IS LESS LIKELY TO CAUSE THE SHOOTER TO FLINCH WHEN HE FIRES THAN IF HE'S USING A LARGER GAUGE. BUT A BEGINNER NEEDS CONFIDENCE OF SCORING SHOTS, AND HE'LL SCORE MORE OFTEN WITH A 20, 16, OR 12 GAUGE THAN IN USING A .410, SIMPLY BECAUSE THEY HAVE HALF-AGAIN OR ALMOST DOUBLE A .410'S PELLETS.

FLINCHING AS YOU FIRE IS FEAR OF RECOIL. IF GUN FITS, YOU SELDOM FEEL IT IF SHOOTING GAME.

Hoopie's Picks

KHS, Saugerties, Onteora, NFA to Win

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
(The Near 100% Prophet)

Egad, friends, this is the week you've been waiting for. This will be the final chance for you to get even by playing Hoopie's selections because after the firing has ceased on Saturday twilight, this noted observer will take a well earned vacation, returning only for the Thanksgiving Day predictions.

I will not bore you with minor details this week and I shan't keep you in long suspense. Kingston and Newburgh will win DUSO league engagements; Saugerties will finish unbeaten and those Onteora Indians, who are trying to make yours truly look like a ham (editor's note: it was his idea to say that, not ours), will close a glorious season with a victory over Liberty.

I have made jet reservations for a fast trip to the moon and expect to arrive before dark Saturday night. From there I shall use my faded but trusty crystal ball, hold conferences of the high level variety with Dr. Inorbit and consult the stars before coming down to earth for predictions on those two DUSO league battles on Turkey Day.

Before giving you a glance at my selections, Amos Barnaby wishes to make a prediction that promises to top all previous predictions. If Saugerties High beats Beacon, it will finish the season undefeated. Hak, Hak, Hak!

Now on with the forecast:

Scholastic
Kingston 13, Middletown 7
Newburgh 32, Poughkeepsie 14
Saugerties 32, Beacon 20
Onteora 20, Liberty 6
Highland 34, CFMA 0
Cornwall 7, Rondout Valley 6

Collegiate
Pittsburgh 21, Army 13
Yale 30, Princeton 21
Harvard 35, Brown 7
Notre Dame 21, Miami 14
Kansas 14, Colorado 7
Penn State 27, Holy Cross 20
Minnesota 21, Purdue 20
Syracuse 48, Colgate 7

Highland, which had to surrender its DCSL title after winning it for three straight years, plays at Cardinal Farley Military Academy in Rhinecliff and should have an easy time with the hapless Cadets.

Pivotal DUSO Tilt
Those two contests in the DUSO league are pivotal. Newburgh has to beat Poughkeepsie to stay alive. If the Pioneers win, not only NFA but Middletown and Kingston will also be alos. The Pioneers had to fight for their lives to win a close one over Eacon last week.

The Old Boy Himself

Newburgh's job is simple. Put a damper on Jimmy Gordon and Steve Albrecht and the club has a chance. The only question is whether or not the two Pioneers aces can be stopped.

Middletown, which shows only two victories over a Bill Burke coached club since the veteran coach has been in Kingston, has gone four straight games without having its goal line crossed.

This is the best Middletown team since 1954, the last year it beat the locals. The offense has been spotty with its best efforts being against Yonkers and Newburgh.

The Maroon players were impressive two weeks ago against Mont Pleasant. They have to produce the same kind of an effort to win this one and then move into Thanksgiving Day against Newburgh in high spirits.

This one promises to be a defensive struggle because the KHS line has been tough on its opponents all season.

Navy Returns To Cornell State

ITHACA, (AP)—Navy returns to Cornell's football schedule next year after a five-year absence. Robert J. Kane, director of Athletics announced. Kane announced also that the traditional Thanksgiving Day game against Pennsylvania had been shifted to the Saturday following the holiday.

Stengel Turns Down Job With Detroit Club

By FRANK FRAWLEY
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Is Casey Stengel through with baseball after 50 years in the game as a player and manager?

Fired by the New York Yankees after the World Series, Stengel has had several lucrative offers in and out of baseball, and Thursday he turned down the Detroit Tigers, who wanted to give him a free hand.

"I don't have any idea at this time what I want to do," said the grizzled Casey. "I love this game of baseball, but I've had so many outside offers to think over that I can't decide. Everybody is asking me when I'll make up my mind. I just don't know."

John Fetzner, president of the Detroit club, said that Stengel told him that "in fairness to Detroit he wanted us to proceed with our efforts to select a manager."

Fetzner said that Detroit's list of eligibles had been narrowed to eight and that the choice will be announced before the American League meeting Nov. 17.

Fetzner declined to name the candidates who have been screened by his aide, Rick Ferrell, but he admitted that Bill Rigney is one of the men.

Fetzner said he is convinced that if Stengel planned to remain in baseball as a manager he would have accepted the Detroit offer.

What is Casey waiting for? Los Angeles will be looking for a manager as soon as its American League franchise is granted next week. But the Los Angeles club will have to take players from the nonexempt lists of eight other AL teams, and a winning team may be years away in a city that had a world champion in 1929 and a contender in 1960—the Dodgers.

Stengel has indicated he isn't interested in a building project of that kind.

Brother Act Set In NFL Sunday

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — When the Philadelphia Eagles, leaders of the National Football League's Eastern Conference, meet the Washington Redskins here Sunday brother will be pitted against brother.

Ed Khayat, defensive tackle of the Eagles who Coach Buck Shaw considers one of the most improved linemen, will be out to block any possible field goal or point-after-touchdown placements his brother, Bob might attempt.

Ed, 25, broke in with the Redskins after playing college ball at Tulane. He is in his third season with the Eagles, who are bidding for an NFL title.

Bob, 22, led the nation in placekicking for two seasons while at Mississippi. He kicked field goals this year which earned the Redskins ties with the New York Giants and Pittsburgh Steelers. Against Dallas he booted four field goals.

The brothers opposed each other for the first time this year in an exhibition game at Norfolk last August. Bob kicked two field goals.

Dad Khayat, a Moss Point, Miss., bank official, is coming up for the game.

"We told Dad he'd had to sit in the end zone for this one," said Ed. "We've been teasing him for some time that he favors one of us over the other."

Rondout Gun Club Completes Courses

The Rondout Valley Rod and Gun Club reports excellent success for the Hunter-Safety courses it has sponsored. Three classes have been held and there was individual instruction for persons unable to attend the classes.

A discussion on new projects planned by the club was held at the Nov. 1 meeting. The discussions will be continued at the Dec. 6 meeting.

Early reports on the small game season thus far indicates it has been a great success. Members have reported an abundance of rabbits, squirrels, pheasants and grouse in some areas. Club officials feel that the pheasant project in which 500 birds were raised and liberated is now paying dividends.

The club will serve an oyster stew supper starting at 5 p. m.

KWBA Schedules Cocktail Party Sunday 3 P. M.

Warriors Still Unbeaten in NBA

NEW YORK (AP) — The other National Basketball Association clubs are finding out to their sorrow that the Philadelphia Warriors aren't a one-man team this season.

The New York Knickerbockers discovered Thursday night that the current Eastern Division leaders are composed of more than Wilt The Stilt Chamberlain. The red-hot Warriors rolled up their eighth straight victory, outlasting the Knicks 116-112 in overtime with Tom Gola and Paul Arizin stealing the spotlight from Chamberlain.

Gola, playing the entire 33 minutes, supplied the impetus in the extra period. He scored seven of Philadelphia's 12 points—including the basket that put the Warriors ahead at the outset of the overtime session.

 BOSTON (AP)—A veteran police sergeant and a detective who raided an alleged horse race betting establishment admitted they were a bit shocked when, just after the proprietor was arrested, a patron arrived to place a few bets. She was a 13-year-old girl who appeared with $6 to place bets for her mother.

Hollywood News, Views
 By BOB THOMAS
 AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Frankie Vaughan is back for another try at Hollywood, and what a difference!
 In his last outing, the English entertainer spent six wacky months on a film with Marilyn Monroe and much of his work ended on the cutting room floor. This time he's hurtling through a film in 23 days. He can't be cut out of this one, because he's in almost every scene.
 Luckily, Frankie has a resilience born of the Liverpool slums and British music halls. His experience with "Let's Make Love" might have shaken a less hardy soul.
 "My scenes were cut and so were some of my numbers," he sighed. "When I did have a number, the camera focused on other people."
 "My makeup was terrible. Marilyn is so white that everyone else had to be whitened up to match her."
 Frankie's partisans, among the British press assailed such treatment of their boy. Oddly, the film has been drawing nicely in England while U.S. returns have been below expectations. Aware of Frankie's pull in the aisles, Fox has given him a more auspicious role. He is playing a no-good singing idol in "The Right Approach." While the picture is shooting at

New York Apple Crop 2nd to Oregon Yield
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department estimates New York State's 1960 apple crop at 17,300,000 bushels, second only to the expected 23-million-bushel harvest in Oregon.
 Crop estimates, announced Thursday, included these for New York State:
 Corn—32,100,000 bushels
 Dry Beans—1,085,000 hundred-weight.
 Potatoes — 18,257,000 hundred-weight.

Iron Mines Closing Again, Lack Orders
 LYON MOUNTAIN, N.Y. (AP)—The Republic Steel Corp. will close its iron mines in this Northern New York area Saturday for the second time in about six months because of a lack of orders.
 The mines, shut down for five months, were reopened partially about a month ago. The company said then the reopening was for a short period, in the hope that business would pick up.
 Republic said 95 men will be laid off tomorrow. About 30 salaried and maintenance employees will continue working.
 The mines normally employ more than 250.

Withdraws Bid For Phone Hike
 HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The Big Eddy Telephone Co., Narrowsburg, N. Y., has withdrawn a proposal to increase bills of its subscribers in two northeastern Pennsylvania counties, the Public Utility Commission said Thursday.
 A proposed rate increase that would have added $6,600 annually to the bills of 787 subscribers in Pike and Wayne counties was originally filed by the firm to become effective last Oct. 1.
 The PUC suspended it until next April 1 to permit an investigation. The commission said the telephone company decided not to proceed.

Remember when the moon inspired only romance instead of space travel.

Whenever I look at you, said the young man to his fiancée, I think of those marvelous glamor girls you see in the pictures.

She—Do you, really? He—Yes, but what's the use. A fellow like me has to be satisfied with what he can get.

Two wives were airing their troubles:

First Wife—I'd like to get a divorce. My husband and I don't get along.

Second Wife—Why don't you sue him for incompatibility?

Diem, Pro-West, Ousted in Coup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Troops struck political blows to day in two free nations of Southeast Asia, South Viet Nam and Laos.

A brief but bloody military coup in Saigon overthrew Ngo Dinh Diem, the pro-Western president of South Viet Nam. The victors said their aim was to end Diem family rule and strengthen defenses against Communist infiltration.

In neighboring Laos, the American-supported kingdom which turned neutralist last August, rightist rebels were reported to have gained support of the garrison of the royal capital, Luang Prabang.

A radio broadcast from Luang Prabang said the garrison, an infantry battalion, rallied to the revolutionary committee of Savanakheth. This is the rightist, pro-Western political group represented afield by the troops of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan. The general seized plane and shipped a platoon of parachute troops to reinforce the garrison.

Both sides of the divided army wear uniforms and equipment supplied by the United States. A third force in the Laotian war is the pro-Communist Pathet Lao. The neutralist premier, Prince Souvanna Phouma, is a half-brother of the Pathet Lao's fugitive leader, Prince Souvanna Vong.

Protest Ban on Wives

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The big event of the television week is the return - to NBC - of "Omnibus" to the Sunday afternoon schedules after the absence of a season.

The first program 5-6 p. m. will be entirely devoted to an examination of the institution of the American presidency, called "He Shall Have Power," and starring Larry Blyden and Harry Townes. Alistair Cooke will be back in his familiar role as host.

Also on Sunday there will be an hour-long special on CBS 9-10 p. m. which sounds promising: "The Influential Americans," a report on educational experiments in progress designed to benefit the gifted child.

There are items of special or passing interest, too, every night next week.

Monday night 9:30-10:30 there is an ABC program marking John Wayne's television debut, which promises to be a 60-minute plug for his new movie. It is called "The Spirit of the Alamo," was taped in Texas and has Laurence Harvey, Richard Widmark, Richard Boone and Frankie Avalon helping out with the chores. Earlier in the evening 7:30-8:30 p. m. NBC has a special called "The Story of a Family."

E. Phillips Oppenheim's 1920 novel, "The Great Impersonation," has been adapted into a hour-long drama for Tuesday night's NBC Hour of Great Mysteries show, with Eva Gabor in an important part. On Wednesday night, CBS' show of the month is an adaptation of "Heaven Can Wait" 9:30-11 with Robert Morley, Anthony Franciosa, Wally Cox and Joey Bishop.

NBC continues its extraordinary devotion to ice shows Thursday. It's "Wonderland on Ice," 7:30-8:30 with Efrim Zimbalist Jr. of "77 Sunset Strip" in his first guest shot on a special show.

U.N. Still Faces Bitter Fight on Congo Situation

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)

— The United States beat down Soviet-Arab opposition Thursday night and pushed through the credentials committee a recommendation to seat President Joseph Kasavubu as the Congo's U. N. representative. But a bitter fight in the General Assembly is in prospect.

The U. S. resolution was voted through 6-1 with the Soviet Union casting the dissenting vote. The United Arab Republic and Morocco—which had backed the Soviet Union in a dogged effort to adjourn the committee without action—refused to take part in the ballot.

The two Arab members charged that the credentials vote conflicted with the General Assembly's decision Wednesday to suspend consideration of the Congo question until a 15-nation Asian-African conciliation commission tries to bring together the warring political factions in the young African nation.

The Soviets and a number of Asian and African nations want to give the U. N. seat to delegates of left-leaning Patrice Lumumba, deposed Congo premier. Both sides interpreted Thursday night's vote as encouraging to their cause.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass said today the coup against South Viet Nam President Ngo Dinh Diem is a blow to United States prestige, no matter who is behind it. "So far it is difficult to judge the character of the events which developed in Saigon and of the forces which have carried out the coup d'etat," wrote Tass commentator V. Kharkov.

"But it is quite obvious that the fall of the Ngo Dinh Diem regime, this offspring of Washington, represents a new blow at United States' prestige."

Allen Quits U.S.I.A.

WASHINGTON (AP) — George V. Allen, veteran of high diplomatic posts and now director of the U. S. Information Agency, is leaving government service to become president of the Tobacco Institute.

Bowman Gray, chairman of the executive committee of the organization of tobacco manufacturers, announced the election of Allen today and said he will take over at the institute's Washington headquarters Dec. 1.

"The Star Spangled Banner" actually is a poem to a tune called "Anacraon in Heaven."
